The Secret of Success.

There can be no success in any continued undertaking without system. Lacking system, perseverence, patience, promptness and energy will fail of accomplishing success in a business depending solely upon public favor. System is the key to success. One of the best illustrations of this fact is to be found in the unvarying success which has attended the efforts of B. Oppenheimer, merchant tailor, No. 82 Market street. Mr. Oppenheimer's system is easily comprehended. In selecting his material he makes it a point to secure the best. Whether the goods are of Scotch, French or English or American manufacture, they are the best of their class. The Scotch goods are durable, the French and English goods the finest manufactured, the American goods admirably adapted to the wants of the purchasers. The cassimeres, velvets and better quality of goods embraced in Mr. Oppenheimer's stock are not surpassed by any establishment in the city. Special attention is paid to fits. All the customer work is made promptly to order. Furnishing goods may be had in the establishment at rates calculated to accommodate every class of purchasers. Such, in a word is the system which has rendered Oppenheimer's one of the favorite establishments of its class.

VARIETIES.

Packer is a rich jewel on the dunghill of Democratic corruption, if we are to believe our Democratic exchanges, which with few exceptions chaunt his probity with unceasing ardor and unanimity.

The largest watermelon chronicled this year has been presented to Horace Greeley. It is 4 feet 7 inches long, circumference 2 feet 6¾ inches, and diameter 1 foot 10½ inches.

Canadians join in an outcry for a Governor General of Princely blood. Their leading journal, the Globe, joins in the royal chorus, and points to Arthur.

We learn that Prince Napoleon is again noticed for the Spanish throne, but have not ascertained whether his differences with the Empress of France will effect his chances to rule a land of which she was a titled native.

Colonel Ryan not satisfied with flogging George M. Pinny and Judge Birdsall in Washington last winter, has been operating on the person of Major Harms, whom he accuses of being a Spanish spy.

One of the sons of Joe Smith, the "Original Mormon Prophet," has written to one of the officers of the Union Pacific Railroad, requesting him to furnish passes for two hundred women now in Utah who desire to flee social iniquity for homes in the East.

We must avow with all candor and due emphasis, that the people of America have not formed the most cordial and exalted opinion of the Spanish government.

The New York Tribune in a spirited editorial says truly: "They (the American people) have been reading, of course, that Spanish authority, as at Cadiz and Havana, butchers its subjects without remorse; that Spain is bankrupt and improvident, and that her officials—on this side of the water at least—are as little trustworthy as are her soldiers hardy or fiery."

Two recent telegrams tell us that the "Great German Power" has made efforts to bring the Grand Duchy of Baden under her sovereignty. These efforts are at present so evidently manifest that we may look on them as signs of determination; nevertheless, they are senselessly stigmatized as a violation of the Prague treaty.

Martial law, alias martial lawlessness still holds supreme sway "down South." There is perhaps less of freedom there than in any of the Spanish or British dependencies.

It is thought that the excess of revenue for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1870, will be more than $100,000,000 over the expenses. Alexander Delmar and Horatio Seymour once told the country that the election of Grant would result in a deficit of $150,000,000 for the first year. Behold the margin!

The Egyptian question like the Gordian knot baffles unravelling. The Porte adheres to its demand that the Viceroy shall yield the right to make budget loans. The Viceroy who arrogated to himself the right has therefore reconsidered his intention to visit the Turkish capital.

A child of Rev. Thomas K. Beecher, on being shown the picture of "Daniel in the Lions' Den," was affected to tears. "Don't grieve, pet, he was not devoured," said the mother. "I'm not crying for that," was the reply; "but do you see that little lion in the corner, mamma? Well, I'm afraid he won't get any, for Daniel is so small he won't go round."

Make Way for the Chinamen.

Koopmanschap, the Chinaman, from San Francisco, is in New York arranging to bring out his countrymen. He will leave on November 4th for China, to return in the spring of 1870, bringing with him as many Celestials as he may have contracted. A contract has already been closed with the Texas Land Company, of which Mr. N. P. Spofford, of the firm of Spofford, Tileston & Co., of New York city, is the President, for supplying 5,000 Chinamen to work on the lands owned by the Company in Texas. Another contract has been made with a leading land owner in Mississippi to supply several hundred laborers for that State. The price paid for coolie labor is about four dollars a month, whereas Mr. Koopmanschap's Chinamen are to receive an average of ten dollars a month and found; and hands employed to work on railroads fifteen dollars a month and found. Mr. Koopmanschap goes to St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans, where he expects to enter into further contracts. He has already supplied the Central Pacific and other railroads with Chinese laborers to the number of about 30,000, and holds certificates from the officers of these roads showing that they have given ample satisfaction to their employers. On his return from China Mr. Koopmanschap will bring hither about 5,000 Orientals as his first contribution to the labor supply market.

THE GOLD EXCITEMENT.

What Brought it About and How It was Squelched—Texas Politics in the Cabinet—Change of Federal Officers Agreed Upon—The Campaign in Kentucky and Mississippi.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 24, 1869.

The Gold Flurry.

The excitement of the day here has been the gold question. The pressure of yesterday upon the Secretary to sell and bring down the market was renewed at an early hour to-day, but Mr. Boutwell gave no indication whatever of the course he would pursue. At half after eleven, when the drift of affairs in New York had been clearly ascertained, the Secretary himself telegraphed to Gen Butterfield, Assistant Treasurer, to give notice of the sale on the part of the Government to-morrow of four millions of gold and purchase of four millions of bonds, and that this would be an extra purchase over the regular monthly transactions. The one day notice was necessary under the law of last Congress. This dispatch was concealed from every one for forty minutes, when a dispatch from New York announced the sudden fall to 135. On hearing the result the Secretary quietly walked over to the Cabinet, where the operation and its effect formed the subject of considerable conversation. The belief of financial men and of officials of the Treasury here to-night is that the corner is effectually broken, and this fact will be fully manifested to-morrow. Persons who have been here as agents of some of the largest stock houses in New York, to watch the action of the Treasury, it is reported, give the following explanation of the whole movement: They assert that the combination which organized the matter did not consider a corner in gold as the chief object of their plan. This was only a part of the scheme, which involved the locking up of currency and gold and certain securities for the purpose of forcing down the prices of the Vanderbilt stocks by short sales at the opportune moment, and that the scheme has been successful beyond their expectations. They assert that after their plot had been sprung they cared nothing for the fate of the gold market.

Texas Affairs in Cabinet.

The Cabinet meeting lasted three hours today. Texas matters were considered at length. The President read a letter from Gen. Reynolds giving his views of the two political candidates there, and taking a decided stand for the Davis wing. After deliberation the Cabinet warmly indorsed the view of Gen. Reynolds, and it was agreed that the influence and patronage of the administration should be used to aid Governor Davis. Texans here representing the Davis interest have been notified that changes in the national offices will be at once made there in accordance with the recommendations from those who represent the Davis wing. The following appointments in this case have been agreed upon: J. G. Tracey, Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, postmaster at Houston; Suantee Palm, postmaster at Austin. The following removals were agreed upon: Collector of the port of Galveston, Assessor of the First District, Collector and Assessor of Second District, Marshal and District Attorney of Western Texas.

The Mississippi Campaign.

In Mississippi the Cabinet earnestly opposes Dent. The story that General Sherman supports him is believed to be without foundation.

The Kentucky Offices.

The Kentucky offices were spoken of and recent changes and decision to retain Needham at Louisville announced.

Cuban Affairs.

There is nothing in Cuban affairs.

A Rather Good Joke.

There is a great laugh in town to-night over the publication of letters writen by Collector Boswell, who went to Cape May last summer, to arrange for his nomination for the office of Mayor. The letter furnishing the plan for a serenade, written to a watchman at City Hall, contains the gist of the whole matter. The following is an extract:

"Perry, you being a friend of mine, and I know how much the people will wish to see me on my return home, you will take the proper steps to make an arrangement to meet me on my return at the depot, and march from there to my home. You can privately get a band, for which I will pay the next day. Make that arrangement. You may have a transparency, painted 'welcome home' upon it. If you want oil for torches, go to Mr. Frank Kelly at my office, and tell him to give you an order. You can consult with W. H. Brown, Charles Peters and others privately about this matter. Do not let them know I said anything in my letter about it. I will be home on or about September first, and you will now have plenty of time to prepare for it."

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 24, 1869.

MONTHLY AGRICULTURAL REPORT.

The monthly report of the Department of Agriculture for August, says of corn: Unless the close of the season is very favorable, there must be one hundred and fifty million bushels less than a full crop.

Cotton—There will be a reduction in the yield of cotton from the Carolinas to Alabama, and a material increase from Mississippi to Texas. The probabilities at present favor a yield of 2,750,000 bales, which crop, as a whole, is larger. The only States showing a decrease are Illinois, Michigan, Iowa and California. Fruits yielded abundantly, apples in a less degree than other species. In stock hogs there is a reduction in number and condition apparently, as compared with last year, of five to ten per cent.

CHINESE IMMIGRATION.

Koopmanschoop, the contractor for supplying Chinese labor, had an interview with Secretary Boutwell to-day, when the latter stated that the Department had no intention of interfering with the scheme of Chinese immigration, unless the laws were violated. He left this evening for Memphis and New Orleans, and thence to attend the Louisville Commercial Convention.

NO CUBAN NEWS.

There are no new developments to-day on the Cuban question, beyond a report that it was spoken of in Cabinet meeting, and a telegram read from Minister Sickles in reference to the respectful declination by the Spanish Government of the proposed mediation by the United States between Spain and Cuba. There is no question pending between the two countries directly concerning the war in that island.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 24, 1869.

A PRIVATEER.

The pilot boat Hope reports having spoken the steamer Prince Albert on the 22d inst., off Fire Island. The steamer reported that she broke part of her machinery, and was laying by to repair. The same steamer was seen yesterday by several vessels cruising off Fire Island, and as she steamed very fast, supposed her to be a privateer or something of that sort.

TELEGRAPHIC UNION.

The annual Convention of the National Telegraphic Union was held to-day at the Western Hotel, this city. But few delegates were present, and little of interest was done. The Treasurer's report showed the good financial condition of the Union. The future control of all affairs of the Union was vested in the Executive Committee, which is composed of the officers and publishers of the Telegrapher, the organ of the Union. The following officers were elected: President, W. H. Young, of Washington, D. C; Vice President, W. O. Lewis, of New York; Recording Secretary, W. W. Burham, of New York; Secretary, F. L. Pope, of New York; Treasurer, A. L. Whipple, of Albany. J. N. Ashley, publisher and editor of the Telegrapher, was re-elected.

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN.

Dr. Porter, junior partner of the old firm of Carlton & Porter, formerly Methodist book agents, and the immediate predecessor of the present firm of Carleton & Lanahan, returned to town yesterday, having just heard of the rumored defalcation. He thinks it exceedingly questionable whether there has been any loss whatever to the Book Concern by fraud in its management or any other cause, and that Dr. Lanahan, the new agent, has been led into mistakes in his investigation.

THE HEADLEY DEFALCATION.

The Express says later information regarding the defalcation of Mr. Headley, junior partner of Vandewater & Co., make it appear that he has made away with about $20,000.

The Indians of Northern California are becoming hostile. A party of savages have given the commander of Fort Bidwell ten days to release several prisoners, otherwise they will be taken by force. The settlers are anxious to exterminate the whole band, but the military authorities refuse permission. The Indians of Arizona are also active. Numerous depredations are reported throughout the territory.

The citizens of Sacramento have tendered a public banquet to the officers and directors of the Central Pacific Railroad, to take place September 28th.

CHICAGO.

Citizens' Party Ticket for City and County Officers—The Platform—Arrival of a Vessel from Baltimore.

CHICAGO, September 24.—The Committee representing the Citizens' party of Chicago, have placed in nomination the following ticket for city and county officers. It is probably the only ticket that will be put in the field against the regular Republican ticket:

City officers—for Mayor, Col. R. B. Mahon; for Treasurer, David A. Gage; for Collector, W. J. Onahan; for Attorney, J. D. Styles; for Clerk of Police Court, C. R. Mathen.

County Officers—Judge of Superior Court, Joseph E. Gary; Clerk of Superior Court, A. F. Stevenson; Judge of County Court, M. R. M. Wallace; Clerk of County Court, J. G. Gindels; Treasurer, H. S. R. Reford; School Commissioner, J. C. Winkelman; Surveyor, Alex. Walcott; Police Commissioner, Mark Sheridan; Members of Constitutional Convention, Fifty-ninth district, S. S. Hayes, Joseph Medill, John M. Farquhar; Sixtieth district; Charles Hitchcock, W. F. Coolbaugh; Sixty-first district, Elliott Anthony, S. H. McCrea.

The candidates for the city and county offices are about equally divided between the two parties. Of the seven candidates for the Constitutional Convention, five are Republicans and two Democrats. The Committee say in their address that it is believed that the gentlemen who have been named as delegates to the Convention are sufficiently well known to assure the community that the following views will be faithfully observed in their action: First, that all attempts to introduce private and partisan measures in the Constitution shall be resolutely opposed. Second, that the compensation of all officers shall be salaries, fair and reasonable in amount, and that all surplus fees and perquisites shall be paid into the public Treasury. Third, that the Legislature shall be prohibited from imposing taxes for special purposes upon counties, cities or towns without their consent. Fourth, that special legislation for classes and corporations shall be effectually curtailed, and that the most careful and strenuous measures shall be devised to protect the people against the encroachment of monopolies.

The leading editors of the four American Republican papers of this city were on the committee which nominated this ticket, as was Wilber F. Story, the leading editor of the Times and only Democratic paper of the city. The only American Republican paper that supports the other ticket is the Evening Post.

A side wheel steamer named Helen Brooks, built of iron and but sixty-five feet in length, has arrived at this port from Baltimore. It came through the New York and Erie canal to the lakes, and thence around to this city. It will leave Chicago for Bayou Teche, Louisiana, via the Illinois and Michigan canal to the Illinois river, thence to the Mississippi river and its place of destination.

CUBA.

Discussion of Probable War with the United States—Consul General Plumb Packing Up the Archives of his Office.

NEW YORK, September 24.—A Havana letter of the 17th says: Under the news from Spain yesterday, the people are discussing the probable war with the United States. It is almost worth a life for an American to go into the streets alone. It is reported that Mr. Plumb, in consequence of a long cipher dispatch received day before yesterday, has directed the archives of the Consul Generalship to be compactly packed, and that he will call a meeting of all the subjects of the United States to-morrow or next day. American houses not only refuse to take orders for goods, but will not sell exchange as freely as usual. On the contrary, many are purchasing exchange and drawing all ready funds from the custody of the banks here.

NEWS SUMMARY

BY TELEGRAPH.

A man calling himself Col. J. P. Nicholowski, who claims to have been a soldier in a New York regiment, and also one of Colonel Ryan's Cuban force, was arrested in Hartford, Conn., yesterday on the charge of swindling, he having attempted several confidence operations, and in one case received one hundred and sixty dollars on bogus drafts on the United States Treasury.

The New York Grand Lodge of Good Templars, in session at Rochester, have adopted a platform in which they declare theirs is not a political organization, and that the doctrines of prohibition for each individual and for society stand first in the teachings of their order.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Society of the Army of Tennessee, in Louisville, resolutions were adopted expressive of their regret at the death of General John A. Rawlins, President of the Society, and inviting General Eli Parker to deliver an eulogy on the life, character and services of the deceased. The next meeting of the society will be held in Louisville, on November 17th, 1869.

A countryman named Boyd, was robbed in a bagnio in Desoto street, Memphis, Sunday night, and had several of the inmates arrested. Gen. Canby has printed his correspondence with prominent Virginians relative to the test oath. The letters show that as early as June 10th, a month before the election, he had to reply to letters of inquiry, and announcing his intention of requiring the oath of members of the Legislature.

The New Orleans Picayune says: For some time past investigations have been going on in the Custom House books as far back as Kellogg's regime. It has been discovered that during Kellogg's administration of the Customs large frauds were perpetrated in a manner so bold and flagrant that it would be an insult to the intelligent officials then in office to suppose they were not cognizant of the facts. Vessels of comparatively small tonnage have been cleared from this port with cargoes apparently of whisky on their manifests that ships of three or four times their capacity could not have stowed away. Imaginary merchants of Honolulu and Greenland have received on paper many such consignments, which in reality were sent west or put on the market here.

An unknown man went into a second hand store in St. Louis yesterday, bought an old shot gun, had it loaded, stepped out on the sidewalk, placed the muzzle against his side, pulled the trigger with his foot, blew a big hole in his abdomen, and died shortly after.

The Mississippi Valley Telegraph Company have sold their lines to the Atlantic and Pacific Company for $260,000 in stock.

THE FOUR GATES OF HELL.

A Genuine Hard Shell Baptist Sermon.

[From the El Paso (Ill.) Journal.]

Wm. Reynolds, of Peoria, is well known as an enthusiastic worker in the Sabbath school cause. He is perhaps better known than any other man in the State, and we give the following story as he tells it, as near as we remember. The main facts are absolutely true. He was in the southern part of the State last week, organizing Sunday schools, when he encountered a Hard Shell Baptist neighborhood. The minister settled over the little flock looked with jealousy upon the movements of the new lights, and finally announced his intention of preaching a sermon against them. On the Sabbath designated the Sunday school men gathered in force, when the preacher announced that well-known text:

"Thou art Peter! and on this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

After giving Peter a good setting out, the minister closed as follows, in that peculiar singing tone that is indescribable, except to those who have heard it:

"Yes, my bretherin, ah!—an' the gates of hell shel not pervail agin' it, ah! Now you'd like to know about these ere gates o' hell ah! Well, my bretherin, thar air four gates to hell ah!

"Thar is, fustly, the Sunday school systum ah. That thar is one gate to hell ah, whar they bring young men and wimmen togither ah, and onder the igee of teachin' 'em the Bible, they set 'em hankerin, arfter one another ah, and to open wide that gate o' hell ah!

"And the next gate is wuss'n the fust ah. That thar is Bible So-ci-e-ties ah, whar they put the word into the hands o' them as haint learnin' sufficient ah for to understan' it ah; an' this here, bretherin, is one of the wust gates o' hell ah of which we read about in the Bible ah.

"An' the next gate o' hell, my bretherin, is temperance societies ah, whar they go rite into yer house and bust into yer rooms ah, and try to diskiver ef ye hev anythin' ah that is good for the stummick's sake ah, an' when they find it, they spill it out onto the groun' ah, an' let it all run to waste ah."

"Yis, bretherin, they do, ah. They air bound to bust up all o' our bizness, an'—an' ah, tharby they open another gate o' hell ah. These air the men that air, ah, goin' to come amongst us, and prevail, ah, agin the rock on which will I foun' my church, ah. Yes, bretherin, ah, they air sot out to do it ah, an' we must jine hands ah, an' war agin 'em ah, that they shel not prevail, ah.

"An' the next gate o' hell ah, my bretherin ah, is the Repablikin party ah. [Signs of approval from his auditors.] Yes, bretherin ah, the Repablikin party ah, wot hez set all the niggers free ah, and turned 'em agin thar marsters ah, an' agin them as put thar money in 'em ah, an' hez cheated and robbed the South ah, outen it's nateral rites ah, an' the gates o' hell shel not prevail agin it ah."

We can give the preacher's name and address, if necessary. The party were too much annoyed to take accurate notes. But Mr. Reynolds himself will vouch for the truth of what we have written. Truth is stranger than fiction.

A GOOD MOVE.—A large party recently assembled at the Mobile ways to witness the launch of the schooner Mat. McCartney, constructed by an association of ship carpenters. She started all right, but came to a halt before reaching the water; the attempt to launch failed on that occasion. Should the association, which had been chartered according to law, meet with success in the disposal of the present vessel, it is their intention to construct others.

Sharp Note from France to Prussia—The Annexation of Baden Cause for War—The Byron Question to be Settled by Publication of one of the Poet's Manuscripts—Pere Hyacinthe Leaves His Convent—His Letter Reviewed by the London Press.

The "Times" on the Hyacinthe Letter.

LONDON, September 24.—The Times to-day, in an article on the letter of Father Hyacinthe, says: It is to the Pope and his Jesuit advisers that we are indebted for a Hyacinthe. Without the idea of a Council, he might have continued in the discharge of his office, occasionally startling his hearers with sudden flashes of the truth, that is, in thus bearing the accustomed yoke and allowing himself to be accounted the luminary of the church of which he is now considered a fire brand. The Pope would scarcely dream of rebuking him in the same manner he contended Father Passaglia, the noted Italian theologian and opponent of the temporal power. Father Hyacinthe's letter is not the production of a wordly spirit—it is the effusion of a soul in earnest, and is the first utterance of a word which may take root and grow and fructify.

Austria and Prussia.

BERLIN, September 24.—The Ministerial Journal announces that the Crown Prince of Prussia is about to visit Vienna on invitation from the Emperor. This fact shows that the desire is generally entertained at Vienna for the establishment of the most friendly relations with Prussia.

An Unfounded Rumor.

VIENNA, September 24.—It is stated on authority of the United States Legation here, that there is no foundation for the rumor that the Austrian Government has proposed to join with France for the purpose of mediating between Spain and the United States on the Cuban question.

Diet of Baden.

BADEN, September 24.—The session of the Diet of Baden was opened by the Grand Duke in person. In his speech the Grand Duke said the relations of Baden with the North German Confederation were of the most friendly character. He was happy also to announce that the national feeling was in process of development among the people of Germany, and that measures were about to be taken to make homogeneous the defensive system of the Confederation of North and South Germany.

A Republican Club Suppressed.

MADRID, September 24.—The meetings of a Republican club have been suspended by the authorities, because a resolution was adopted condemning the monarchy.

More Conciliatory.

Since the return of Gen. Prim to Madrid, the language of the American Minister has been more conciliatory.

The Cuban Question.

LONDON, September 24.—The Standard to-day says: Whatever her legitimate claims to Cuba may be, Spain labors under a disadvantage in having to prosecute them in the face of the susceptibilities of the American people while she is herself in a condition of revolution. The Americans cannot wish for anything else than that Cuba shall be free to choose whether she remains with Spain or becomes an independent republic. That material assistance is rendered to Cuba through the sympathy which the Americans feel for her cannot be doubted; but if those sympathies should demand war, it would be the most anomalous and extraordinary conflict ever seen.

The Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Chicago Railway.

The Beaver Radical of yesterday says: "A public meeting of the citizens of Beaver and vicinity was held at the Court House on Tuesday evening, September 21st. John Caughey, Esq., was elected chairman of the meeting, and J. Weyand was chosen Secretary. On taking the chair Mr. Caughey stated that it was in contemplation to build a railroad from Baltimore to Chicago via Pittsburgh, and when built the road would be much shorter than the one now running from Philadelphia to Chicago. The new road, it was supposed, would pass through Beaver county. Three routes through our territory have been spoken of. The upper, or Brady's Run route, is the one the people of Beaver and vicinity are most interested in, and the purpose of the present meeting was to raise funds sufficient to make a preliminary survey of that route. This survey, it was understood, would be made within a short time. Remarks were also made by Messrs. Hice and Anderson, both speaking favorably of the movement and urged the raising of the sum of money necessary to defray the expenses of this survey. On motion Capt. Geo. W. Hamilton, Capt. D. M. Donehoo and Hugh Anderson, Esq., were appointed a committee to solicit funds for the purpose stated, two hundred dollars being thought sufficient. About sixty dollars of this amount was raised in the meeting, the funds thus raised to be used at the discretion of the above committee."

LADY PALMERSTON, who died in England, lately, was, in many respects, one of the most remarkable women of her time. She stood at the right hand of her husband, the late Lord Palmerston, in all his political work—in such of it, at least, as could be done out of the House of Commons. She understood and exerted to the full the influence of the petticoat in politics: and many a member of Parliament, whose vote even Walpole could not have bought for a price, was won over through the genial attentions of Lady Palmerston to his wife and the frequent card of invitation to Lady Palmerston's soirees. The drawing-room of the well-known house (now turned into a club) in Piccadilly was always filled with a brilliant company; and no one knew better than the woman of the house how to play the part of hostess to the delight of her guests and the political advantage of her husband. Naturally rather a haughty woman, she made herself all geniality, frankness, and affability, even to the humblest of her guests. No one ever understood better the value of a card of invitation, a friendly word, or a friendly smile. Thus she was during the latter part of Lord Palmerston's career a distinct and remarkable influence in English politics. That influence, like her husband's, had nothing lofty in it. Indeed, it tended only to demoralize political feeling, to expel all heart and purpose from the game of politics, and make it a business of partisanship, office, and temporary success. Lady Palmerston's devotion to her second husband was one of the best traits in her character. She was married twice, her first husband being Earl Cowper; but it is believed that Palmerston and she had long been "attached, (a political novelist once described them under the name of "Lord and Lady Oldlove,") and after Earl Cowper's death they were married—not without lifting of eyebrows and shrugging of shoulders on the part of Lady Sheerwell and Mrs. Candor. She had no children since her marriage with Lord Palmerston. Her second son, W. F. Cowper, obtained, if we remember rightly, permission to adopt the arms and crest of Lord Palmerston. Lady Palmerston was sister of Lord Melbourne, the English prime minister famous for his policy of letting things alone.

THE WONDERS OF THE WEST.

The Highest Mountains in the United States.

[From the Springfield Republican.]

The progress of the exploration among the high mountain ranges of Western America is narrowing down the question as to where is the highest mountain peak in the republic. The Rocky Mountains, the Sierra Nevadas, the latter's extension through Oregon, the Cascades, and their further extension into British America—and Alaska, have all been contestants for this distinction; and very wild statements have been made of the heights of the representative peaks of each of these sections. Several peaks need yet to be more accurately measured before the contest is fully closed; but at present California, in her Mount Whitney, carries off the palm. The mountain, which lies in the Sierra Nevada range, in the Southern part of the State, was ascended by M. King, one of the State geological survey, in the summer of 1866, to a point of 14,740 feet in height, where he took accurate measurements. Beyond that point the peak was "inaccessible;" but his skilled judgment was, that the summit rose from three to four hundred feet above him; and he therefore reports Mount Whitney as 15,000 feet high—a claim which may be held to be substantially correct. In the neighborhood of Mount Whitney are Mount Lyell, 13,217 feet high, Dana 13,227, Brewer 13,886, and Tyndall 14,386 feet.

But next to Mount Whitney, in California, stands Mount Shasta, in the Northern part of the State, and perhaps the most magnificent snow-covered mountain in the United States. It is 14,440 feet high, and is apparently destined, more than any other mountain in the republic, to become the object of curious interest and pleasure-seeking for travelers. Mount Hood, its Oregon rival, and nearly its equal in beauty of shape and extent of snow fields, is but 11,225 feet high. Mounts Baker and Rainer, still further North in Washington Territory, are respectively 10,780 feet and 12,330 feet high. They are also distinguished for the extent and magnificence of their perpetual snow fields. The encyclopedia puts down two mountains (still further north in British Columbia)—Brown and Hooker—being 15,990 and 15,700 feet high, respectively; but they prove never to have been accurately measured, and these figures are but the wildest guesses of superficial travelers, no more to be depended upon than the claim of the Oregonians to a height of over 17,000 for Mount Hood, which has only been overthrown within the last three years. It is not probable that either of these peaks in British America ascend so high as either Shasta or Whitney, in California; but still they need to be accurately measured before the question can be held to be finally closed against them.

So, too, of Mount St. Elias in our new territory of Alaska. Heights of 16,000 and 17,000 feet have been claimed by travelers, and soberly put down in books for this grand old volcano. But the measurement of Sir E. Belcher, which is the highest put forth by any one of respectable authority, claims only 14,970 feet for it, and other observers make it much lower. The mountain has really never been accurately measured.

Thus stands the case in the Pacific coast States an Territories. Of the coast mountains in California, no one rises above 5,000 feet, that being the figure for Panache Grande. Mount Diablo, so conspicuous an object in the country about San Francisco, is but 3,857 feet high.

Coming east to the Rocky Mountains, Colorado, which holds the highest peaks of that range, has four mountains which are pretty certainly between 14,000 and 14,500 feet each. There are Long's Gray's and Pike's Peaks, and Mount Lincoln. Dr. Parry, of St. Louis, has made the most reliable measurement of the Coloradian Heights; but since one of the barometers which he depended upon for the calculations was stationed in St. Louis, there was some liability to error in even the most accurate of his figures. He measured the lower of the two Gray's Peaks, and made it 14,251 feet. The other, to which he endeavored to give the name of Torrey's Peak, but which the people of Colorado join with its twin in the same name of Gray, is evidently from one to two hundred feet higher, but has not been accurately measured. Pike's Peak is reported by Dr Parry at 14,216 feet, and by Fremont, who ascended it, at 14,300 feet. Mount Lincoln has never been accurately measured, though often ascended. It is more likely to be lower than higher than Gray's Peaks. Dr. Parry did not succeed in reaching the summit of Long's Peak, but made an approximate measurement, which he reported at 14,056 feet. But this last season the first successful ascent of the notable mountain was made by Professor Powell and Mr. Byers, of the Rocky Mountain News, and their measurement, the first reliable one ever made, gives the figures of 14,250 feet. The New York Nation, therefore, showed more presumption than knowledge, when it undertook to criticise Mr. Bowles in his "Switzerland of America," for not being more exact in reporting the heights of the leading mountains in Colorado. The Nation says "he ought to have known that Long's Peak was 14,506 feet," which, in fact, nobody did or could know outside of the Nation office.

There are numerous other peaks in Colorado of 13,000 feet and upward. Among these are Mount Andebond, Veilles Peak, Mount Guyot and Parry's Peak; while those of ten, eleven and twelve thousand feet in height lie everywhere about in the central portions of the territory. To the west of the peaks, constituting the dividing range of the continent, lies a huge mountain known on the maps as Sopri's Peak. It seems, both from the summits of Gray and Lincoln, to be still higher than those. It never has been measured, and though its apparent superiority may arise from the comparative lowness of the peaks directly around it, the people of the neighborhood will not yield their possible right to claim for Colorado the highest mountain peak in the United States, until an actual measurement of Sopri's Peak shall decide it against them.

The question as it now stands, seems, therefore, narrowed down to Sopri's Peak and Mount Whitney in California. The peaks of the Rocky Mountain range, North of Colorado, in Montana and beyond, offer no competition to those of the former territory. But when we annex Mexico, that country will bear off the palm in North America for the highest mountain peaks. She has, too, Popocatepetl and Orizaba, whose heights seem to be definitely settled at 17,720 feet and 17,380 feet, respectively.

There is nothing in our mountain ranges in the Atlantic States to at all compare with any of these figures. Mounts Clingman and Mitchell, in North Carolina, 6,940 and 6,732 feet respectively, are the highest mountains East of the Missouri River. Mount Washington, in New Hampshire, ranks third, with a height of 6,285 feet. The highest mountains in Switzerland are Mount Blanc and Mount Rosa, 15,775 and 15,150 feet respectively. South America has several mountain peaks, ranging from 20,000 to 25,000 feet high. But the Himalayas, in South Asia, carry off the palm of the world for high mountains. There are several peaks in that range between 25,000 and 29,000 feet in height, Mount Everet reaching the last figure, and, to be precise, adding two feet more. These latter figures almost take one's breath away, even to think of them. To mount the heights which they represent would do it actually; for the air at such an elevation is so rare as to make human existence there dangerous if not impossible.

STATE POLITICS.

A number of prominent citizens of Williamsport have issued a call to Peter Herdic, Esq., to become a candidate for Mayor of the city at the October election. In accepting the call, Mr. Herdic says: "I am fully impressed with the belief that no reason exists why Williamsport should not be the third largest city in Pennsylvania. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh we cannot rival, but the city of Williamsport, located near the center of the State, surrounded by almost inexhaustible elements of wealth and prosperity, will soon stand unrivalled by any other city in the interior."

A gross attempt to register men illegally was detected in Philadelphia a day or two ago, one of the Democratic candidates for Assembly, named Marshall, swearing to the identity and residence of a man named Smith, who professed to live in a certain house, but who, it was afterwards proved, had also perjured himself and did not live there at all. Both were arrested, and it is thought Marshall's chances are not good for a seat in the Legislature next winter.

The Republican Executive Committee of Carbon county contains quite a number of former Democrats, such as Dr. D. K. Shoemaker, (Chairman), Gen. Lilly, Gen. Albright, Capt. John Shields, T. Frank Walter, Louis Beckhardt, Capt. John Glasser, A. J. Lauderburn, Esq., A. Christmas, Esq., Reuben Serfass, Hon. Tilghman Arner and others. All these are now actively engaged rallying the Republicans of Carbon county for Geary and against Asa Packer.

A well known officer at Harrisburg, who is thoroughly familiar with the political prospect in the State, writing to a gentleman in Erie City, says: "The prospects of a triumphant success are every day becoming more encouraging. I have not the shadow of a doubt than our best anticipations will be more than realized."

A. S. Dickson, Esq., is the Republican nominee for Mayor of Meadville.

The Susquehanna Democracy have nominated the following ticket: For Assembly, J. H. Dusenberry; Sheriff, C. M. Gere; Prothonotary, Elliot Alrich; Register and Recorder, Abram Carter; Commissioner, John Foster; Auditor, Truman Bell; Coroner, Dr. E. N. Smith.

Governor Geary and Hon. Mahlon Chance, of Ohio, will address the citizens of Freeport, Pa., and vicinity on Saturday, September 25th at 2 P. M., on his return from Butler.

A West Middletown correspondent writes us as follows: The Republican meeting announced for West Middletown, in Washington county, on the evening of September 23d, came off according to announcement, and was one of the largest ever held. The people turned out in force and were very enthusiastic. A band of music from Cross Creek township contributed largely to the interest of the occasion. The meeting was presided over by Hon. S. Sloan, of Hopewell township, and able speeches were delivered by J. S. Rutan, of Beaver county, candidate for Senator, and H. J. Vankirk and J. R. Kelley, of Washington county. The Republicans of Washington county are awake, and determined to elect their whole ticket. X.

STATE NEWS.

Ex-Governor Wm. Bigler will deliver the annual address before the Center County Agricultural Society on Thursday, October 7th.

Turkeyfoot is the name of a locality on the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, where the Youghiogheny, Casselman and Laurel Hill rivers come together in Somerset county. A town has been laid out at Turkeyfoot, and the name changed to "Confluence." The town is situated midway between Pittsburgh and Baltimore, and as the Pittsburgh and Connellsville road proposes to build car works, a round house and other shops there, it promises to become a second Altoona.

Dr. H. A. Litchenthaler, of Lock Haven, Pa., who was indicted for voluntary manslaughter, in having run over two women by fast and reckless driving, one of whom died immediately after her injuries, was acquitted on Tuesday last, the jury rendering their verdict "Not Guilty."

The debt of Meadville, for city purposes, is $150,000, and for school purposes, $72,000. The debt of Oil City is over $100,000, and Titusville has a debt of $40,000.

Joseph Grimes, a colored man who has resided in Titusville for the last nine years, left his house on Tuesday of last week, and has not since been heard from by his family, although he has been seen at Franklin. He had shown symptoms of mental derangement for several weeks past.

A TALK WITH A COAL MINER.

The Life of a Miner and its Dangers.

A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser writes from the Pennsylvania coal region: The Lehigh Navigation Company have a village at Summit, with a network of railroad, gravity road, inclined planes, worked by steam power, and collieries, shafts and breakers in all directions. Under the guidance of Mr. Phillips, one of their mining engineers, a man brought up and always employed in and about the collieries, I visited their works, and was introduced to Mr. Thomas R. Williams and William Pritchard, who are both miners. They came out in their mining dress, and we sat upon a log together for a half hour. They were both from Wales, were miners, and the sons of miners. Williams had worked eighteen years for the Navigation Company, and Pritchard about six years. Pritchard is president of the local association, and was recommended to me by John Siney, president of the central association. Upon my mentioning the subject—the coal supply, strikes and wages—Williams burst out with a denunciation of the newspapers that had articles against the miners. "They talk about men's wages in cities. Have they to work like we do? We are like soldiers in the front of the battle; we have the hardest of it. The papers are running us down, and say we are lazy and quarrelsome; it isn't so; there's not a man been brought before a justice in all the strike." He, doubtless, referred to his own community. "We are not anxious to have coal go up; but when it does, we want our share of the increase in price. We have a hard life. After a man has worked twenty years in a mine he can stand it no longer. We buried a man a few days ago who was only forty years old. He died of the bad air in the mines."

"Was it not partly of bad whisky?" I inquired.

"No, he was temperate; he was not a drinking man. I am a temperate man myself," said Pritchard, who then had answered for the deceased, and who then struck into the conversation; "I belong to the Temple of Honor temperance society." He looked as if he told the truth.

"Do the miners lay up money?"

"Not much; what they earn in summer they spend in winter," said Pritchard. Williams said he owned his house, built on land leased of the company, and the lease would expire in five years.

"Have you any savings banks?"

"No; and we have no money to put into them if we had one; and if we do have any money we can leave it with the company (Lehigh Navigation Company,) and it's a good company, and there's not a better in all the mines!"

"We are no 'Molly Maguires,'" said Williams. "I don't know any such men; and they say we are rebels and copperheads; it is not true; my son went into the army, Company D of the Fifth United States artillery; he is now working in the mines. We are true men."

"And so you came from Wales?" I asked. "Yes, we did," said Pritchard. "And your fathers and ancestors were miners?" "Yes, they were, and my father is there still," said Pritchard. "Were they healthy people?" "Yes, always healthy." "And do you enjoy good health?" "Oh, yes," was the ready reply, but seeing the drift by the time I had it down (for I was writing all the time we were talking,) Pritchard qualified it with "but my health would have been better if I had worked above ground. We have to blast a great deal. We have to use a keg of powder every week in the breast, and a keg every three days in the gangways; that injures the health."

"Then they both tried to blame the transportation companies for high prices. "When we made the contract," said Pritchard, "transportation was $2 28 from Mauch Chunk to Elizabethport, now it is $3, we think the transportation companies have raised prices when they need not have done so, and the blame of the high prices belongs to them. If they would do in this country as they do in England, it would be well. There the price of tolls is fixed by law. Here they fix the prices as they please. And the operators crowd the workingmen down on the one side and crowd up the price of coal on the other. And they say we are ignorant. We have to be; we have no time but to work." Williams said he wanted to go and see the schools opened that day, as he was a supervisor—I think that was the term—but he had no time.

These men were said to be above the rest in intelligence, but they did not seem to be able to give me an intelligent idea of their organization, nor of their grievances. Neither they nor John Siney had copies of the constitution of the B. W. A. Society. Mr. Siney disclaimed any intention of interfering with the operators. If they desired to employ other men they might. But it is pretty well understood that not even the strong arm of the State could render secure the life of a miner who worked in violation of their rules. The miners say they do not desire the present high prices, but it is certain they are unwilling to abate their demands, and any day may see another strike. As a general thing the miners' quarters looked pretty well—better, in all the anthracite region, than I have seen elsewhere. Nor did I see much intemperance, nor hear, directly, of cases of violence."

A Boy's Paradise.

A correspondent of the New York Evening Post has found, at the obscure village of Washington, Connecticut, a school for boys, conducted on principles which, if he tells the truth, must make it a real paradise, compared with most schools, and we fear this publicity given to it will fearfully test its capacity. The correspondent says: The moral tone of the school is its distinguishing feature. Any one guilty of deceit or fraud is warned by his companions to report himself to the head-master; if he neglects to do so he is at once informed upon by his companions. Instead of its being considered mean to report a misdemeanor, it is here regarded as an offense against the whole boy community to permit a misdeed to go unpunished. The methods of punishment pursued at the school are entirely original, and generally arise on the spur of the moment. A little boy makes too much noise; he is ordered to take a horn to the village green, and to blow a blast at the four corners of the church; or he is sent a mile over the hill to the Moody barn; or he helps rake hay for half an hour in the fields, or cleans some bricks that are required for building. One day a boy stole some apples from a poor widow; he was sent the next day to pick up stones from her field as a punishment, but the widow's heart softened, and she made him come in to dinner, and stuffed him with good things and sent him home. A little boy was caught ducking a cat in the rain-water hogshead; up steps the teacher behind him, and, seizing him by the seat of his breeches and the nape of the neck, plunges him in after the cat, to show him how it feels. Such things as bullying and fagging are not tolerated. There are no rules, no forbidden games; everything that can afford amusement is tolerated at proper times and in proper quantity. The master of the school is unable to distinguish between the good Dr. Busby and the wickedness of ordinary playing cards, and so the boys play whist, if they know enough, openly and in the parlor. The sinfulness of dancing and the orthodoxy of calisthenics are metaphysical distinctions; and the boys have a dance when there is time for it, and they feel like it. Those who are old enough have breech-loading rifles, and they are taught how to use them, as the master of the school is one of the best shots in the country. The older boys learn all about the haunts of animals. They know the track of the woodchuck, the racoon, the fox, and can tell the name of a bird from its song, its nest or its egg. They roam the forests on Saturdays, and fish and hunt, and bathe in the mountain streams; some trusty big boy accompanies the smaller ones, and no party goes away without the knowledge of the teachers. All the boys wear good stout woolen clothing, which necessarily meets with numerous rents and tears, but is kept in order by Aunt Betsey, whose needle and patch work are in constant demand. Such a beehive, such exuberant spirits and shouts of happiness constantly bubbling up and running over as this school exhibits, it has never been my lot to witness before.

CITY MATTERS.

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

A Man Falls From a Third Story Window—He is Supposed to be Fatally Injured.

Frank Davis, a Welshman, boarding at the Iron City Exchange Hotel, No. 667 Penn street, Tenth ward, fell from the third story window to the yard, about one o'clock yesterday morning, sustaining injuries which render his recovery doubtful. The unfortunate man had been drinking some during the evening previous, but retired to his room apparently sober. His bed is situated near the window, which it appears was hoisted, and it is supposed on getting into the bed he leaned out of the window too far and lost his balance. A lady occupying one of the lower apartments heard the fall, and notified the inmates of the house, who arose and conveyed the injured man to the house. Dr. Nicholson was called, and after an examination, decided that there were no bones broken, but severe internal injuries had been sustained. Davis has a wife and five small children, residing in Armstrong county.

THE MARKET HOUSE.—Will the Councils at their meeting on Monday next authorize the city to purchase the Lyon property, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Miltenberger street, for a new market? Thousands of our citizens in that vicinity are looking forward anxiously for this important and much needed improvement. We sincerely trust the matter may not be delayed an hour longer than is necessary. Private enterprises are, we understand, contemplating securing this most eligible location for building purposes if the city does not. Hurry it up by all means.

FIFTH AVENUE.—The Fifth avenue sewer was completed on Saturday last, and the paving of that thoroughfare will be finished in about a month. Mr. Flinn, the contractor, has labored under many disadvantages since commencing the work, and will be involved in considerable loss. It was not his desire to delay the work, but unforseen circumstances occasioned it. New flag stone crossings will be laid on the avenue at the itersection of all streets traversing it.

PAINFULLY INJURED.—Thomas Boyer, a laborer employed at Finch's whisky distillery in South Pittsburgh, while assisting to hoist grain on Thursday afternoon, was injured by being struck between the shoulders by the hoisting block, the rope of which broke. Boyer was taken to his home on Mt. Washington, where a surgeon attended him. It is feared his injuries may prove fatal.

THE NEW BILLIARD HALL.—Bennett's new Billiard Hall, No. 68 Smithfield street, was opened for the entertainment of the public last evening, and a large crowd was in attendance. A match game of five hundred points was played between Harry Warren and Wm. Dodds. The game was won by the former by fifty points.

SUNDAY SCHOOL REHEARSAL.—All the Sunday Schools participating in the coming panoramic entertainment at the Allegheny Rink, will meet for rehearsal at the Third Presbyterian Church, Sixth avenue, at two o'clock P. M. to-day (Saturday). A full attendance is desired. Prof. Slack will lead.

OVERHAULED.—The fire alarm bell at Hazelwood, which for some days was out of order, has been overhauled, and now strikes regularly.

Some Facts About Malt Liquors.

People who are in the habit of drinking malt liquors should be very careful that they drink nothing which will do them a physical injury. Many things for the past two years have combined to make it of great pecuniary benefit to brewers to manufacture ales out of patent syrups, and not unfrequently injurious drugs have been used regardless of the health of the consumer. Of course when brewers make cheap and unwholesome ales they can sell them to retailers at prices for which good ale cannot be made, thus offering inducements to saloon keepers to sell poor liquors instead of pure articles. The only way for the public to guard against this imposition is to inform itself which brands are unadulterated, and then to drink no others. Amongst us we have one firm that we believe perfectly reliable. The charge of adulterating their ales has never yet been brought against Pier, Dannals & Co., and their patrons bear witness to the nourishing properties of their ales. Ale drinkers by calling for Pier, Dadnals & Co.'s cream ale obviates all risk of being poisoned. These gentlemen are willing to stake their reputation on the purity of their ales. †

Heavy Business in Teas and Coffees.

But few persons are aware of the value of the Tea trade of Western Pennsylvania. The new enterprise of Jenkins & Bro., our well known flour men, have bought out nearly all the tea runners from Eastern houses. They appear to have had a monopoly of the trade at large profits, which will now be interfered with, as the Checkered Front have the reputation of working on small margins, and they guarantee satisfaction. †

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25 1869.

It turns out as we were satisfied it would,—Gen. Sickles has not exceeded his instructions, therefore is not going to be recalled or rebuked by his Government. On the contrary, he has kept himself in close communication with Washington, and whatever he has done has been with its knowledge and approbation. Spain "flew off the handle" at something or other; precisely what there is not much knowledge or concern at Washington. As a "question of time" the Cuban question involves no very great difficulties. Still Spain, in case she becomes obstreperous, will find us ready to make short work of her.

The action of the Republicans of Massachusetts, in their State Convention on Wednesday last, on the questions of temperance and prohibition, indicates very clearly the enlightened sentiment of the party on the subject, in most of the States of the Union; at least the Northern and Eastern States. The Massachusetts Republicans, in effect, withdraw the question from the field of national or State politics, by remanding it to the decision of the people of the various towns and counties, in the nomination and election of Representatives and Senators. We annex the material part of the resolution adopted by the Worcester Convention:

> "That divers views upon the best method of suppressing intemperance are honestly held among members (of the Republican party); and that the decision as to what legislation upon the sale of intoxicating liquors is likely to prove the most salutary should be left entirely to the will of the people as indicated by the Senators and Representatives elected by their votes."

If this does not take the temperance question out of politics, it at least confides it to the decision of the people in their primary assemblies. If a particular county desires prohibition it can so declare in the nomination of representatives, or if a license system is preferred the same avenue is open to indicate that sentiment. In this State it has been proposed to extend this principle still further, by allowing the people of the counties and townships to declare by popular vote whether they desire the license of drinking houses in their respective localities. In some parts of the State this system now prevails in effect, in the administration of the license laws by the courts, and this is probably as far as the Legislature will go for some years.

So long as the partisans of Mr. Pershing, the Democratic candidate for Judge, confined themselves to the foolish attempt to connect Judge Williams, the Republican candidate, with repudiation and dishonesty, we were willing to let them "slide," convinced that they would meet with about the same degree of success as they would in an attempt to make people believe that Gen. Grant throughout the war was a coward in sympathy with the rebels. A more wicked and utterly groundless charge was never brought against a man, and we have felt from the beginning that it would be an insult to the intelligence of the people to enter upon a reply. But the supporters of Pershing have gone further. They have assaulted every citizen of Pittsburgh in a manner that should bring down upon them and him the execration of the entire community. It is contained in the following paragraph, which we take from the Philadelphia Age, the recognized Democratic organ:

> The city of Pittsburgh is now borrowing money in New York and Philadelphia to meet accrued and accruing portions of her old loans. This offers, we do not doubt, an excellent investment. But is it not a ground for some disquiet that the old repudiation party of Allegheny county now furnishes the Radical candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court?—Age, September 22, 1869.

This covert attempt to blacken the credit of our city in the money market is certainly a new mode of party warfare. If Mr. Pershing is an honorable man he will cause it to be made known that it does not meet his approbation, and, moreover, that he does not indorse the false and wicked attempt to connect Judge Williams's name with repudiation. We need not say that our candidate is the very soul of honor. There is as much ground for charging highway robbery and counterfeiting on Mr. Pershing as sympathy with repudiation or anything dishonorable on Judge Williams.

Senator Sumner in his Worcester speech said Spain was now engaged in a comedy and tragedy. The comedy is hunting a King and the tragedy sending out troops to Cuba. The latest phase of the comedy is the announcement of the probable tender of the crown to Prince Napoleon, the liberal cousin of the French Emperor. If Spain persists in her desire for the tinsel and trappings of royalty, she could hardly do better than take the Prince. He is a man of far greater ability than the average of Princes in want of a situation, and possibly could do something to restore order and prosperity to the kingdom. Aside from Prince Napoleon, the most available candidate would seem to be his cousin, the Duke of Genoa, a nephew of Victor Emanuel. This young Prince is fourteen years of age, is being educated in England, and is reported as happily endowed both in a physical and moral sense; these qualifications being of about equal importance in the founder of a dynasty. To attach the Duke of Montpensier to this project it is proposed that the young Duke shall marry his third daughter, thus happily uniting the houses of Orleans, Bourbon and Savoy in the new sovereign. What a farce it makes of kingcraft and the divine right, this ridiculous hunting after available royalty by the Spaniards. Instead of contenting themselves with the constitutional rule of men of intellect, energy and force of character, such as Serrano, Prim or Revero, they must ransack the palaces of Europe for some puny boy, with the desired blood in his veins, but who probably has inherited nothing from his ancestors but evil proclivities and a weak brain. The Cortes will meet about the first of October, when it is probable definite action will be taken by the Government and the deputies in regard to the choice of a sovereign.

DEMOCRATIC BLUNDERS IN FINANCE.

Senator Wallace, in his speeches, and the Democratic editors in their papers, have discovered a mare's nest in the fact that the Republican State administration paid off $23,000,000 of the over due Pennsylvania 5 per cent. loan, and had to pay 6 per cent. on the new bonds. Let us see how the account current would stand had the State listened to these Democratic counsellors. A part of their fault-finding, anti-war policy demanded that the State should pay her interest in coin. In fact the Democratic minority in the Senate in January, 1864, when Senator White was confined in Libby prison, refused to organize the Senate, and thus forced the State on the 1st of February, 1864, to pay 60 per cent. on one million of her semi-annual interest, or $600,000 for gold to pay this interest. The House had passed the bill to pay in legal tenders, but the Senate refused to organize, to pass that or any other bill for two months. This payment in legal tenders we admit was a Republican measure, and forced the other act of 1866 to pay the overdue loans. These overdue loans were, more than three-quarters of them, held in Europe. These holders began to protest and talk about the payment in greenbacks. All will remember the letter of the State Treasurer to Mr. Belmont, over which the Democratic papers gloated. In consequence of these groanings the overdue loans were paid.

But let us see how the account stands, admitting that we now pay $230,000 per annum over the five per cent. loan. First, on February 1, 1864, the State Treasurer expended $660,000 in buying gold. Had the bill not passed, the State would have had to pay as follows:

	Premium.	Equal to
August 1, 1864	150	$1,500,000
February 1, 1865	110	1,100,000
August 1, 1865	45	450,000
February 1, 1866	40	400,000
August 1, 1866	40	400,000
February 1, 1867	40	400,000
August 1, 1867	40	400,000
February 1, 1868	40	400,000
August 1, 1868	40	400,000
February 1, 1869	40	400,000
August 1, 1869	40	400,000
		$6,250,000
Add $600,000 February 4, 1864	60	600,000
		$6,850,000
Deduct three years' one per cent. on $23,000,000		690,000
		$6,160,000

We have the State Treasury benefited to that extent. No wonder the Copperheads weep when the taxpayers are benefited. This was not the only gain. The old overdue loan was nearly all held in Europe, and the semi-annual interest had to be sent abroad to it. None of the new loan, over twenty millions, is held at home. In fact we are disposed to believe that this change in the holders will of itself be a full equivalent for the one per cent. interest. Will Senator Wallace and his friends try their hands at a few more charges upon our Republican management of the State finances? It may give us a chance to point out some new excellences that otherwise would have escaped our observation.

WALL STREET.

The gold bubble, in Wall street, having lasted forty-eight hours, exploded yesterday afternoon, and prices fell to less than the rate at which they stood when the bulls commenced their operations on Wednesday afternoon. At two o'clock on Wednesday, the quotation was 137 1-2, and at the same hour yesterday, 133 1-2 was the ruling rate. But in the interval Wall street witnessed a scene of excitement almost without a parallel in the monetary history of the country. Gold advanced from 137 1-2 to 162 1-2, which latter figure it reached at noon yesterday, but here it stopped and commenced to fall, and in less than a couple of hours the dishonest combination was driven from the field and honest and legitimate operations once more controlled the market. Secretary Boutwell is credited with having broken down the conspiracy by his announcement that he would purchase four millions of bonds and sell four millions of gold to-day. This was equivalent to placing eight millions against the bulls, and having been successful in their operations beyond all expectations, they concluded to let the market drop. And drop it did, down to 133 1-2, or nearly thirty per cent. in less than two hours.

We believe the capitalists engaged in these operations, no matter how high their position, to be great public criminals and the regret must be universal outside of stock gambling circles, that there is not some law by which they may be punished. A combination interested in depressing stocks, was at the same time anxious for a rise in gold. It was powerful enough to manipulate the gold market and produce the effects witnessed It is humiliating that to a certain extent the business and industry of the country is at the mercy of these operators—not permanently of course, but long enough to bring ruin and bankruptcy to thousands. No reason can be cited, for the advance in gold, but, on the contrary, the general prosperity of the country shows that its tendency should be the other way, and it is in a normal condition of the money market.

ONE ASPECT OF THE COMING COUNCIL.

All who take any interest in history, as well as all who take any interest in human progress and well being, have from the first looked forward to the meeting of the great council with intense regard. Its peculiar and distinctive character by which, in one sense, it will necessarily stand alone, while, in another sense, its historical connection with the past and its causal connection with the future, justly entitle the assemblage to be anticipated as one of the most important events of our time. In thinking of it, one may naturally be reminded of the return of one of those celestial bodies, whose revolution occupies several hundred years, and which were once supposed to bring with them "pestilence and war." The historical successor of the Council of Trent—who, that looks through the vista of years between 1563 and 1869, will pretend to calculate, or predict, the return of the phenomenon? How different the times, the questions, the entire social and political surroundings of the two assemblies! But we are not about to try to be rhetorical, or to declaim on the subject. It is a topic adapted to suggest grave and anxious concern rather than figures of speech.

Almost every week since the announcement of the Council was made to the public, some occurrence has taken place, or some manifesto appeared tending to indicate how powerful and transforming its acts are likely to prove. It has also been rendered daily more clear, that these effects will not proceed from the transcendent wisdom of its co-operating intelligences, or from the potent energy of its decrees, or from the implicit credence placed in them by the Faithful, or yet from the enthusiasm inspired by the "celestial colloquy sublime" of the assembled representatives of the universal church. No! The vast results of the Council will probably be due to the re-action and antagonism excited by its ordinances. Weakness is often very powerful in its effects, and a blunder has frequently produced more tremendous and far reaching results in history than the finest stroke of policy, or the most sagacious suggestion of wisdom. And the likelihood that this truth will be illustrated by the coming Council has for some time been so apparent to non-Catholics and even to Catholics not a few, that we look forward to it with hope.

But we began to write on the subject for the purpose of noting merely one aspect of it; a side of it to which attention is every day directed by the telegrams regarding Father Hyacinthe. Whether the eloquent preacher of Notre Dame, has apostatized or not, has become a Protestant or not—may, with our present information, be questions. The means are absent of adjusting the degree of his heresy,—and of assigning him his circle in the Dantean Inferno. But it is already clear enough what place he wishes to occupy in the history of his country. Every one possessing even a tincture of French history knows something of the long conflict between the Pope and the Bishops of France. In the annals of that land there are many more entertaining narratives, but perhaps none more instructive than this ecclesiastical strife between Italy and France. Frenchmen, even French ecclesiastics, have never been able to regard Italy as a Holy Land, or as entitled by peculiar spiritual insight to shed divine influence upon them. And many of the most eminent among them have for centuries dissented from their brethren beyond the mountains in regard to the right and authority of the Pope to intervene in certain ways in the control of them and and their church. Hence hatred of ultramontanism. It seems that Father Hyacinthe has made up his mind at all hazards, even that of Protestanism, to stand by "the liberties of Gallican church." Bossuet stood by them too, but under very different circumstances. Father H.'s step just at this time is unquestionably immensely significant in its relation to the future of the French church and consequently to the church of Rome. In order to understand it fully, or to estimate its importance duly, we may with advantage call to mind the careers of Lamennais and Montalembert—as well as the controversial achievements of the Bishop of Meaux against the Ultramontanists.

The Countess Guiccioli, who is now the wife of the Marquis de Boissy, a French nobleman, has her say, and a very singular one it is, on the Stowe-Byron scandal. She announces through a writer in a Paris journal that she is in constant and direct communication with Lord Byron, by means of a process similar to that known in America as "Planchette," and that she was informed by the poet two years ago that "an American author was preparing to write on his life a book full of false and horrible things." This leads to the hope that before long we will get the poet's opinion of the "true story," transmitted from one or the other of the other worlds.

The Siberian astronomical expedition, from the National Observatory at Washington, sent from San Francisco to the coast of Siberia, in a Government vessel, was a decided failure. The party arrived at their destination safely, erected their observatory, and the weather was favorable until half an hour before "contact," when dense clouds obscured the sun, and continued until half an hour after the termination of the eclipse, when the skies cleared off. The party then packed up their "traps" and steamed for San Francisco about as thoroughly disgusted as it is possible for men to be.

There is a fair prospect for a thorough union of the Republican party in New York city. The three Committees representing three different organizations have agreed on the appointment of a single harmonious delegation to the Convention of next Wednesday, instead of two or three contesting or wrangling sets. The ultimate effects of this policy will be one consolidated party in the district with a single General Committee.

Gen. Sam. Cary is now engaged in organizing secret societies throughout Ohio in the interest of the Democratic party. Sam knows all about it. The Cincinnati Commercial says he "has been, perhaps is, an Odd Fellow, Red Man, Mason, Know Nothing and Son of Temperance. He would have been a Daughter of Rebekah if his sex had permitted."

* * *

Father Hyacinthe was born at Orleans in 1827, was ordained priest in 1849, and became professor of theology at the seminary of Nantes. Afterward he entered the order of Carmelites, and preached at Lyons, Bordeaux and Perigueux, in the south of France, finally coming in 1864 to Paris, where he has ever since been famous for his eloquence.

We have the statement that the faro banks in New York have been closed since Thursday noon, owing to the superior facilities for gambling at the Gold-room.

CO-OPERATIVE FARMING.

How it is Conducted in France.

Mr. Ripley, through the New York Tribune, furnishes some interesting facts connected with co-operative farming in France which may serve as valuable hints to American mechanics and laborers. He visited the Societe of Conde Sur Vesgre, a purely co-operative association, having for its object the social and intellectual welfare of the working classes. It was founded in 1833, in imitation of Fourierism, on a tract of 1,235 acres of beautiful land near the river Vesgre, fifteen leagues from Paris, and numbered between five and six hundred men, women and children. All the interests were to be possessed in common, according to the amount of each individual's share. The society has undergone many changes occasioned by inexperience and bad management, but is now a real co-operative farm and manufacturing association. The society eschews property or individual ownership as a burden, and as provoking unnatural ambitions prejudicial to social and intellectual development. Economy is the first desideratum, and so great is the reduction of expenses that the entire bill, including nourishment, taxes, washing, heating, lights and rents, does not exceed twenty-five dollars per month (currency) the year round. The cost of living in style, with such expenses as trips to Paris, extra clothing, incidentals, and commodious apartments thrown in, amounts to only $400 a year. More than one half the members live on fifty per cent. of this figure. Tilling the farm, horticulture and floraculture are largely attended to. There are a number of manufactories in operation, including the corn mill of the society. Schools form an important subject, and France cannot boast a keener intelligence than is nourished here. The library and lecture room are not wanting, and the society meets at stated times to discuss the general topics. Universal suffrage prevails, and every question is submitted to the debate and ballot of every member, male and female.

Mr. Ripley also visited the far famed co-operative farm at Vienne—the most complete specimen of co-operative enterprize in the world. It was formed in 1854, the object of the Association being to furnish contentment and happiness to its members by the expedients of agriculture, manufacture and every variety of chaste and healthful pleasure. It is not socialistic, but every member is allowed perfect independence while enjoying its bounties. The city of Vienna is situated on the Rhine, eighteen miles below Lyons, and most of the members, consisting of mechanics, clerks, etc., reside in the city. The society have a fine flouring mill, woolen cloth factory, and other mills, on a stream which here falls into the Rhine. These mills not only furnish flour and cloth for the members, but contribute to the outside market, and are well known for the superior quality of the goods. In the denser parts of the city is the restaurant, with four large eating rooms, convenient for male and female members and their friends. Mr. Ripley here enjoyed a meal as generous as any American spendthrift ever procured at the Fifth Avenue Hotel—and its cheapness contrasted widely with our two dollar dinners. Economy is so condensed that these great family tables yield a saving of from twenty to seventy-five per cent. over the ordinary households of the city. A bank is among the institutions of the society, which now boasts deposits amounting to 1,217,000 francs, the surplus funds of the society in common. Over 2,000,000 francs annually pour into the bank, and money is loaned on credit to young aspirants in business. The farm contains less than forty acres, but there are only two hundred and fifty members in the society. Mr. Ripley says: If our co-operating friends in the United States would organize a similar farm and manufacturing society in one of those well-watered valleys of Virginia, where farm lands are cheap, water power plentiful, and schools, labor-saving machines, railroads, etc., common, it must, if correctly managed, yield all the elements of wealth and happiness so abundant in the Societe de Beauregard here in Vienne.

The drought is so great that the New Yorkers, but for the fact that science so far as possible guarded against such a consequence, would stand in danger of a short supply of Croton water. The river which is the source of supply is lower than it has been known for thirty years. All of which shows, that in constructing water works a city cannot know too much, and is never safe without consulting the best skill and availing itself of all that is known on such matters. It is little less than a crime to expend millions of money without first obtaining adequate data. While on the guessing plan the general view may be correct, there is a grave liability to err where science and experience alone can decide. New York employed the best available skill, and her water works have stood the test, principally, however, because the lay ideas were made to give way to those of science. Had the "common sense men," who at first undertook to control matters, had their way, New York would have been high and dry long ago.

England has advanced a step ahead on the "Rights question," notwithstanding we have such persistent educators as Mrs. Stanton. At a late meeting of a Farmer's club, of which the Duke of Beaufort is chairman, he was unable to attend; his wife the Duchess took his place and presided with great success at the annual dinner of the club, proposing the toasts and making the speeches precisely as the Duke might have done. There were three hundred persons who participated in the dinner, and one of them, a very young lady, Lady Blanche Somerset, replied to the "Health" of her family. This is practical work compared with the tea table talk at the Sorosis.

* * *

Lord Wentworth has appeared against the Byron Stowe-ry. He declares that Lady Byron's own version of the seperation is in existence, but it assigns no such reason as the one given by Mrs. Stowe. He declares that the latter's story is inconsistent with various letters he has seen written by Lady Byron. The cable report that a manuscript in Lord Byron's own hand writing, will soon be published, whereby the controversy will be settled, adds a new interest to the subject. It is known that Lord Byron was in the habit of writing nearly every kind of thing against himself, and nothing in this line should create surprise.

The Pacific Mail Company advertise that they will soon run weekly steamers from China to San Francisco, increasing their abilities for transportation in order to meet the demand for immigrants. The new vessels will also convey Chinese at lower rates. The company intend to petition Congress for an increase of subsidy to compensate the increased service—giving weekly instead of monthly mails. In view of which you might as well attempt to stay the ocean stream which sweeps in from the Indian Ocean to the Pacific shores as forbid Chinese immigration.

* * *

The World quaintly says that should its hopes in Ohio be realized, and should "Asa "Packer carry Pennsylvania, the Democratic "party, after the election in New York State, "in November, will start the new year with "the control of the three largest States in the "Union." Exactly so, but "should" is equivalent to "if," in the nursery rhyme, of "If's and and's." Three weeks only remain for work before the elections in Ohio and this State. The canvass thus far has been moderate, and perhaps more thorough than mere surface indications would lead us to expect.

* * *

The Republicans of Wayne county, West Virginia, in their County Convention on Saturday last, adopted a resolution favoring an amendment of the State Constitution so that every citizen shall have the right to participate in all elections, unless prohibited by reason of having been convicted of some infamous offense. This is an indorsement of the liberal policy proposed by the prominent Republicans of Wheeling. On this platform the Republicans of Wayne county renominated Col. Carrol for the House of Delegates.

* * *

A Congress of "the Friends of Animals" has been in session lately at Zurich, Switzerland. Thirty-four associations in different parts of the world were represented. The transportation of live stock by rail and the protection of useful birds, were the two subjects discussed of most extended interest. On both these points not only legislation but the enforcement of existing laws is needed in the United States to a greater extent than Europe. American delegates were present at the Congress.

* * *

In Utah, according to a Gentile paper, the Daily Reporter of Corinne, the Mormon apostles, presidents, bishops, elders, priests, and teachers, without shame or secresy, practice worse crimes than Mrs. Stowe accuses Byron of. High officials marry nieces—their own brothers' daughters, and even two of them at once—marry half sisters, mothers, and daughters at the same time, and even sisters of the whole blood.

* * *

The Boston Advertiser scores Gen. Butler for the disorderly conduct at Camp Claflin, near Boston, of which he is the commander. The Advertiser naively suggests that "whatever has been said about him in other departments of the public service, in the field and in the forum, it has never been denied that he is a competent militia officer." Therefore, the people insist on better discipline in the camp.

* * *

The New York Sun intimates that Mr. Jas. Parton was at the bottom of the Stowe-Byron business in the Atlantic, in the interest of sensation. This certainly is a reasonable suggestion, and is supported by the interest Parton has taken in defending Mrs. Stowe. Perhaps it is Mr. Parton that is to dramatise the Stowery.

Judge McCandless and the Late Term of Court at Williamsport.

The September term of the United States Court at Williamsport, closed on Monday, and Judge McCandless and family have returned to Pittsburgh. The Williamsport Gazette pays the following compliment to the Judge and his family:

> Those who have had the pleasure to mingle in their society during their short stay will regret their departure, and we trust they are as well pleased with their visit as our people have been with their society. Usually there has been but one term of this Court held here in the year, and that in the month of June, but the accumulated business has rendered it necessary that there should be two sessions as is authorized by law, and Judge McCandless, who is obliging in his nature, has very properly accommodated the Bar, and the suitors in this section of the country, not only in this has he satisfied our people, but especially for the manner in which he dispatches the business. The Judge is a man of quick perceptive faculties, firm in his decisions, while his sentences are tempered with mercy. He is becoming more popular from time to time as he is holding his Courts here, both with the members of the Bar and the people, and we trust that he may long be permitted to enjoy life and health, and that we may have the pleasure of seeing him and his family with us at the next term of the Court.

THE COUNTY WORK-HOUSE.

Appointment of Manager.

One of the most important matters connected with the establishment of the work-house, was the procurement of a suitable person to manage it. The Board, after examining the principal correctional and informatory institutions in the country, had no difficulty in preparing plans and arranging details for the building; but their observations of and inquiries into the management of our prisons and workhouses, satisfied them that the all-important requisite was a competent superintendent, without which the buildings, and everything connected with them, would prove of but little practical utility. The system and the means for carrying it into effect might be never so perfect and satisfactory, and yet in the hands of an inexperienced and incompetent manager the institution might prove an utter failure. The Board fully realized this fact, and for nine months past they have been searching for a manager, with a view to engaging the best available man in the country for the position. They have finally succeeded, as they hope and believe, having prevailed upon Henry Cordier, Esq., Warden of the Wisconsin State Prison, at Waupun, to assume the management of the Work House. As a prison superintendent, there is said to be but one man in the United States equal to him. He is highly recommended by Prof. Wines, Dr. Dwight, and others, as an experienced and thoroughly practical manager. He is a gentleman of humanitarian ideas, is devoted to the cause of prison reform, and has his whole heart in the work. He is not only devoted to the work of reforming criminals, and relieving them from the rigors of punishment, but has given years of study to the practical business management of these institutions, and is thoroughly versed in all their details. The Board cannot but feel that they have been most fortunate in placing the Work-house under the control of one so able to govern it, and produce the highest results of which the system is capable. Mr. Cordier is a native of Worms, Germany, and received a liberal education in his native country. He has been in the United States for a number of years, and has made prison management a subject of constant study. Being a gentleman of fine acquirements, and enlarged practical experience, he will bring the highest qualifications to the discharge of his responsible duties. He visited the Workhouse yesterday, in company with the members of the Board, and expressed his satisfaction with the internal arrangement of the buildings. He will leave for Wisconsin to day, and expects to be able to take charge of the Work-house in January or February next.

Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange Place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine street, N. Y., offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay 7 per cent. in Gold; have thirty years to run; are Free from Government Taxation; are secured by a Land Grant of Three Million Acres of the Finest Lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the Company also owns Three Millions of Acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation now earns more than enough net income to pay the interest on the new loan. There is no better security in the market---this being in some respects better than Government Securities. Principal and Interest payable in Gold. Price 96, and accrued Interest, in Currency. GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

In addition to the nine Circuit Judges under the new Judiciary act of Congress, the President is authorized to appoint one Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Justice Wayne. For this position several persons, most of them of superficial judicial knowledge, have been named. It is now stated that the office will be tendered to Attorney General Hoar, thus removing, in case of his acceptance and confirmation, the objection constantly urged that Massachusetts has two members in the Cabinet.

Having just finished successfully the laying of the French Cable to America, the Great Eastern has been refitted, and her large iron cable tank put in order; and she began on the 28th of August to take in another cable, to be laid down between Aden and Bombay. At last accounts she was taking in and stowing away the cable, at the rate of some forty miles of cable a day. If, as we judge, at least 2,000 miles of cable will be required to unite these two important British ports in the East, it will require nearly or quite two months to complete the work of receiving and stowing this cable in the Great Eastern.

Dr. Everett, of Louisiana, gave an experiment in Brooklyn, with the new style of telegraph apparatus, professing to transmit sound through a wire and dispense with electricity. The Doctor discards the old theory of sound being caused by vibration of air, and holds that it can be transmitted in particles like the sparks of lightning.

PERSONAL.

Major General Howard lately received the degree of LL. D. from the University of Pennsylvania, of which he is a graduate. This honor, says the New York Times, will rest more gracefully and appropriately on General Crawford's shoulders than on those of some of the other military officers upon whom it has lately been conferred by sundry institutions of learning. For he is a scholar as well as a soldier—a man of thought and ideas as well as of military achievement. General Crawford is now commanding in Alabama.

An attempt has been made here in some of the papers to make Mr. Sumner responsible for the confirmation of Ross Browne, who is just now unpopular. It is a fact that Mr. Sumner opposed Mr. Browne's confirmation.

The Duke of Genoa, now talked of for the Spanish throne, is a youth of 15, seemingly with no blood in his veins, with dark, sentimental eyes, small hands and feet, and always dressed in the height of fashion. His mother is still a very good-looking lady, and scandalous reports in Turin and Florence say that she is the favorite mistress of her uncle, King Victor Emanuel.

Miss Charlotte Cushman is said to have written a novel, but to have determined to follow the Horatian plan, and keep it a few years longer, to make up the nine, before publication. From this it will be inferred that Miss Cushman is not dead, as has been reported, although it is doubtful whether she will, as also reported, return to the stage.

On the 2d of this month Adelina Patti appeared at Homburg (not Hamburg) in the "Barber of Seville." The King of Prussia was present, and led the applause. In the singing lesson scene, Patti sang the waltz from the "Pardon de Ploermel," and the opera could scarcely be gone on with for the applause. The audience finally compromised in a second morceau, "Les Echos d'Eckens," and the performance continued.

Maurice Strakosch is about to start on a tour through Holland, Belgium and France, with a musical troupe expressly organized to execute Rossini's Mass. Among the principal artists are Mlle. Marie Battu, Mme. Alboni, Henri Vieuxtemps, Sivori (double bass), and Teresa Carreno (piano).

Health of the City.

Dr. Whitmer Snively, M. D., Physician of the Board of Health, reports twenty-three deaths in the city during the week ending September 18th—ten adults and thirteen children. The diseases are stated as follows:

Unknown, one; old age, one; drowned, one; pericarditis, one; marasmus, one; tuberculosis, four; convulsions, three; meningitis, one; typhoid fever, 2; dysentery, two; cholera infantum, one; still born, 5. Males, 17; females, 6; white, 23; total 23.

Lecture—Soldiers' Orphans.—Miss Sarah P. Kidder, teacher in the soldiers' orphan school, Titusville, Pa., will deliver a free lecture in the second United Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue, (Rev. T. H. Hanna, Pastor,) on Monday evening, September 27th, at 7½ o'clock. Subject: Soldiers' Orphan Schools. Miss Kidder brings the highest testimonials from leading men in this State, and her lecture has been pronounced by all who have heard it, to be clear, and touching in its narration of facts and incidents in connection with the soldiers' orphans. Every one should hear it.

Breaking a Drug Store Window.—A young man named Treman was brought before Alderman Butler yesterday morning for throwing a stone and breaking the window of Park's drug store corner of Washington and Wylie streets. The stone broke one of the large plate glasses and knocked down and broke a three dollar bottle of brandy and smashed a number of jars. Officer Havis arrested the demonstrative young man, who settled the case with the proprietor by paying the costs and paying for the damage done.

Repairs.—The First Methodist Church edifice, Fifth avenue, Rev. Alex. Clark, pastor, is undergoing a thorough renovation, repainting, &c., and will not be ready for service before the first Sabbath of October. When reopened it will be one of the most comfortable places of worship in the city. The seats are free, and the location of the church accessible, being but half a square from the Custom House. Mr. Clark has entered his fourth year as pastor, and his congregations are large and the general interests of the church in a flourishing condition.

Killed by a Fall of Slate.—About twelve o'clock yesterday a coal miner named David Phillips, employed in Baley's coal mines, Lower St. Clair township, was accidentally killed while employed at work in one of the pits. At the time of the accident the deceased was standing with his chin resting on the handle of a shovel, when a mass of slate or "horseback" fell upon his head, and it is supposed he was killed instantly. The deceased resided near Beltzhoover's tavern, near Plummers run in said township, and an inquest will be held by Alderman Donaldson.

Amputation.—Dr. Donnelly, of this city, assisted by Dr. Van Kirk, of McKeesport, on Thursday amputated the leg of a young man seventeen years of age, son of Michael Kilgallin, of McKeesport. The leg was broken on the 15th inst., by a fall of "horseback" in Lyle's coal mines at Camden landing three miles above McKeesport, and mortification setting in amputation was deemed necessary. Drs. Huey and Van Kirk had a consultation with Dr. Donnelly, the result of which was the amputation of the leg. The patient is doing as well as can be expected.

Severely Injured.—Richard Moore, a lad residing on Webster avenue near Washington street, was injured by falling from the second to the first story of the new Merchants and Manufacturers National Bank on fourth avenue, yesterday morning. He was engaged in gathering wood, and stepping on a loose board, it passed from under his feet and precipitated him to the next floor. He was bruised considerably about the face and arms, but escaped without serious injury.

Revenue Seizure.—Mr. R. L. Brown, Collector of United States Revenue in the Twenty-third District of Pennsylvania, yesterday seized the brewery of Messrs. Lutz & Walz, in the Third ward, Allegheny, for alleged violation of the revenue laws. The seizure was made on information from Inspector McCready, of the Twenty-second District, for not stamping and cancelling beer barrels according to law. It will be released as soon as the defendants give the required bonds.

Sentenced to the Penitentiary.—Louis Holsner convicted in the Cambria county court of murder in the second degree for killing Philip Phalon, was on Friday week sentenced to ten years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.

The Deputy Sheriff of Crawford county yesterday arrived in Allegheny city with James Gray and William Stark, convicted last week of house breaking and sentenced to the Penitentiary for two years.

Register of the Eighth Ward.—Mr. A. Seanor, Register of the Eighth Ward, Pittsburgh, may be seen at No. 78 Franklin street, from half-past seven o'clock in the morning until eight o'clock in the evening, on Friday and Saturday, the 1st and 2d of October. Persons in the ward who have any corrections to make on the registry, or names to add, can have the matter attended to on either of those days.

A Nuisance.—Citizens residing in the immediate vicinity of the railroad station in South Pittsburgh complain loudly of the nuisance they have to suffer of engines whistling in the borough. The railroad company promised to instruct the engineers to discontinue the "screeching" and simply ring the bell, but the order has never gone into effect. Will the Company see to the matter and thus relieve the citizens?

Disorderly Conduct.—Thos. Rogers went to the house of John Gearing, in South Pittsburgh, on Thursday evening, and demanded liquor, which, owing to his being intoxicated, was refused him. At this Rogers became incensed and conducted himself so badly that an officer, who was passing, arrested him. Justice Barker fined him ten dollars and costs, which was paid.

Hearing To-Day.—John Grogan and James Gilemore, will have a hearing before Mayor Brush to-day, on a charge of highway robbery, preferred by chief of police Hague. It will be recollected that some weeks ago, the accused stole a watch from Daniel McCune, on the public highway in daylight. They were arrested and a pawn ticket calling for the watch found in Gilemore's possession.

The Larceny of Brushes.—Dr. Keyser yesterday made information against Thomas Whalen, whose arrest has been noticed, and Michael King and Thomas Flaherty for the larceny of a lot of brushes of the value of thirty dollars. Flaherty and King were arrested yesterday, but previous to a hearing in the case the Doctor withdrew the information, and accused were discharged.

Run Over.—A little daughter of Mrs. Godfrey, who resides on Strawberry alley, was run over by a wagon driven by a countrywoman, yesterday morning, and was slightly injured. The woman driver was arrested, but she proved there was no carelessness on her part, and she was discharged.

Has Taken a Wife.—Our genial and valued friend John Murdoch, Esq., as will be seen by notice elsewhere, has turned his European trip to momentous account, having taken for a wife, a daughter of the Emerald Isle. We wish him and his fair bride many years of wedded bliss.

Personal.—Major E. A. Montooth, who has been absent on a three months' tour in Europe, arrived on the City of Boston, on Thursday, and reached his home in this city yesterday. During his absence he visited the principal points of interest in England, Germany, France, Switzerland and Italy.

Released.—Mary Jane Miller, whose arrest was noticed yesterday, was before Mayor Brush for a hearing, on an information for the larceny of some salt-cellers, preferred by Mrs. Ellen Smith. She declined prosecuting, however, and after a kindly word of advice from the Mayor, the accused was released.

Court Calendar.—Twenty-nine common cases were disposed of by Mayor Brush yesterday morning. The majority of the offenses were of a trivial nature and light fines were imposed. Some six or eight of the offenders were fighting on the street, and fines of five and ten dollars were imposed and collected.

Witness Fees.—The Clerk of Court informs us that all witness bills must hereafter be probated before the Clerk of Court, and not before Aldermen, as has sometimes been the case heretofore. It is stated that during the past year the county has lost over $700 by witness' bills being probated before Aldermen.

Discharged.—The boy Douglass, arrested on Thursday for the larceny of some oysters from McCoy & Co.'s in the Diamond, was discharged yesterday. It was the intention of the Mayor to commit the lad to the House of Refuge, but subsequently it was deemed best to give him another chance to reform by discharging him.

Fined.—Peter Haddy and John Morgan, arrested Thursday evening for abusing officer Charles Bauer, were fined—the first ten dollars and costs and the second twenty-five dollars and costs by Mayor Brush yesterday. Neither of the fines were paid and the parties were committed for twenty and thirty days respectively.

Taken to the Work-House.—The following prisoners, whose names were not published yesterday morning, were conveyed to the work-house yesterday: Malachi Brady, Richard Marsbach, John Williams, Edward Ruine and Geo. Crush.

Numerous Applicants.—It is astonishing the number of men who daily apply to Mayor Brush for positions on the police force. In nearly every instance the applicants are young men who have come from abroad, and failing to secure employment endeavor to get on the police force as a last resort.

Pamphlet Laws.—The pamphlet laws of the Legislature of 1869 have been received at the County Treasurer's office, and will be delivered to lawyers and others entitled to copies, upon the payment of the required one dollar to the State.

The Gymnasium.—The managers of the Pittsburgh Gymnasium, which is now in a very flourishing condition, contemplate having Prof. Dio Lewis deliver a lecture under their auspices during the coming fall.

Eleventh Ward Meeting.—A meeting of the Republicans of the Eleventh Ward will be held this evening, at half-past seven o'clock, at the School House, for the purpose of naming candidates for ward offices.

Petition in Bankruptcy.—A petition in bankruptcy was filed in the District Court yesterday by Whittlesey & Williams, of New York city, against T. B. Hilderbrand, of Mifflin county. The usual orders were made.

Cholera.—The victim to the case of cholera reported in Birmingham on Thursday was a Mr. Linn, and not Lewis, as stated. Dr. McCook pronounced it a genuine case of cholera.

City Councils.—A regular monthly meeting of City Councils will be held on Monday afternoon.

Postponed.—The Republican meeting announced to take place at Tarentum this evening has been postponed for the present.

LOCAL POLITICS.

Gov. Geary at Apollo, Armstrong county.

On Thursday afternoon Gov. Geary arrived at Apollo, Armstrong county, in company with a number of distinguished gentlemen, and in the evening addressed a very large meeting of citizens, presided over by the Hon. Darwin Phelps. He was followed by Hon. Mahlon Chance, of Ohio; Hon. Jesse Kennedy, of Lancaster, and Hon. David Barclay, of Kittanning. The town was handsomely decorated in honor of the Governor, and he was most cordially received by the people. The ladies displayed great taste in decorating the speaker's stand with evergreens, flags, bouquets of fresh flowers, etc.

Previous to the meeting, Gov. Geary was invited to visit the Odd Fellows Hall in the village, and while there took occasion to deliver a neat little address to the fraternity. After the meeting, a procession was formed, headed by the Governor and Congressman Phelps, and a visit made to the Iron City Rolling Mills of Rodgers, Burchfield & Co., half a mile below Apollo. The mills are running day and night, and a fine opportunity was afforded for seeing the fiery operations. A bonfire was made in front of the works, and the Governor received all the workmen in a very cordial manner. After returning to the town the procession disbanded with three cheers for Gov. Geary and Judge Williams.

Twelfth Ward Nominations.

A public meeting of the citizens of the Twelfth ward was held last evening. John R. Hague presided, and A. M. Hamilton and J. H. Jones acted as Secretaries.

Meetings to be Held.

Republican meetings will be held to-night at Gerst's Hall, Third ward, Allegheny, G. W. Boyd's Hotel, Bridgeville, and at Tarentum. Able speakers will address each of the above meetings.

Republican Nominations in the First Ward.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the First ward, held at the school house last evening, the following names were suggested for ward officers:

Select Council—G. W. Coffin, George W. Perkins. One to be nominated.

Common Council—Joseph M. Gazzam, John Seiferth, Samuel M. Fulton, W. R. Boggs, Jas. S. Vandergrift, Chas. F. Collins. Three to nominate.

School Directors—Dr. J. D. Stoneroad, Florena Kramer, George A. Kirkpatrick. Two to nominate.

Judge of Elections—A. F. Brackmeyer.

Inspector—Alderman Andrew Humbert.

Return Inspector—W. B. Hunter, David Campbell. One to nominate.

Constable—Matthew Keep.

It was resolved that the Republicans of the ward meet at the school house on Tuesday evening next, September 28th, between the hours of 4 and 7 P. M. to nominate candidates for the above offices.

Meeting in Birmingham.

A meeting of the Republicans of the South side boroughs was held in the Diamond, Birmingham, last evening. The meeting was organized with the following officers: President—W. C. Aughinbaugh, Esq., Vice Presidents—T. B. Atterbury, Charles Evans, D. C. Ripley, David Jenkins and Martin Snaffer, Esqs., Secretary—E. G. Krehan, Esq.

Mr. Aughinbaugh made a brief speech on taking the chair, which was well received.

Major A. M. Brown and W. C. Moreland Esq. followed in stirring speeches, which occasioned considerable enthusiasm.

THE COUNTY HOME.

Visit of the Grand Jury—What They Saw, &c.

The Grand Jury, at present in session, yesterday, by invitation of the Board of Directors of the County Home, paid a visit to that institution. The party left the Court House about nine o'clock, in carriages provided by the County Commissioners and after a pleasant ride of about two hours arrived at the Home, where they met with a cordial and generous reception from Mr. McIlroy, the superintendent. The company consisted of fourteen members of the Grand Inquest, together with Messrs. Cness, Dravo and Davis, (the latter being also foreman of the jury). After refreshing themselves with a short rest, and removing the dust from their person which accumulated during the seven miles drive, the jury were requested to enter the dining room where the inmates were at dinner. The "family" consists of about one hundred and forty persons, ranging in age from a few days to a hundred years, among the latter being the redoubtable Johnny Gallagher, of "triangle" memory, who had assumed his military suit and buttons for the occasion. They were all clean, and presented a peaceful and contented appearance, which indicated stronger than words that they were well attended to. Their meal consisted of meat, vegetables, bread and pure fresh milk in abundance. Many of them were acquainted with the visitors, and expressed great pleasure at meeting them. The party afterwards inspected the farm, the stock and the elegant new barn which has recently been erected, and which was pronounced perfect.

Several gentlemen volunteered their assistance to thrash oats with flails, but after several unsuccessful attempts, abandoned the unwieldy implements to the apparent satisfaction of the workmen. The company then returned to the "Home," where their number was augmented by the arrival from the city of Rev. J. S. Travelli, Theodore H. Nevin, General F. H. Collier, F. B. Penniman, Josiah King, and several other gentlemen residing in the vicinity. Dinner was then announced, which was all that could be desired. The speeches, toasts, etc., customary to such occasions were dispensed with, and upon the conclusion of the repast the company continued their inspection of the farm. The frequent visits of representatives of the COMMERCIAL to the County Home, and their published reports of what they saw, renders any extended notice at this time unnecessary, sufficient to say that the two hundred and five acres of land are in a high state of cultivation, and the buildings, etc., are in excellent condition. The grounds immediately surrounding the "Home," have been handsomely laid out in walks and drives, and filled with trees, shrubbery and flowers, all the labor being performed by the inmates, which reduces the cost of the improvement to an inconsiderable amount.

During the day the company visited the school room where they found nineteen boys and eleven girls, under the charge of Mrs Hayes, an accomplished teacher. While other departments of the Home wore their holiday attire, (as public institutions always do while visited by officials—especially Grand, Jury,) the scholars were at their books as usual. At the request of the Directors, Mrs. Hayes afforded the visitors an opportunity of hearing the children recite, sing, etc., and they acquitted themselves in a manner that would do credit to any juvenile school, public or private in the county. The children were awarded for their efforts to please with a plentiful supply of sweet-meats, furnished by Mr. Davis, who appears to be a general favorite with both old and young. At three o'clock the carriages were ordered, and the company, after taking leave of their generous entertainers, returned to the city. The Grand Jury, in their customary presentment to the court at the conclusion of their labors, will doubtless refer to the "County Home," and compliment the managers upon the success of their efforts to render it what its name indicates.

The Sampson Scale.

Elsewhere will be found the advertisement of the Sampson Scale Company whose products are fast displacing all other scales made in the country. The nicety and sensitiveness of the small scales made by this company are the source of continued comment. Exact, easily adjusted, not liable to derangement, durable, they bid fair in time to supersede all others in the qualities essential in scales of all sizes. The Sampson scale is simple in construction, easily set up, compact, and as a whole light in proportion to the capacity. The railroad track scales in particular possess numerous advantages over all others in use.

The Enterprises of Baltimore—The Baltimore Advertising Agency.

Specialties are the order of the day, and good men who push good specialities are always successful. These statements, the soundness of which cannot be questioned, apply with force to the Baltimore Advertising Agency of Griffin & Hoffman, No. 1 St. Paul street.—German Correspondent, August 16th, 1869.

Police Intelligence.

[Before Mayor Brush.]

Mary Johnston charged James Brightmore with surety of the peace, alleging that the accused threatened to kill her by means of a knife. Warrant issued.

A SUBSCRIPTION.

Samuel English yesterday subscribed the sum of twenty dollars to the city fund, at the request of Mayor Brush. The means for this were contained in the allegations of officer Peter Kruter, who alleged that Samuel had pushed him down, torn his blouse and otherwise abused him.

AN ABUSIVE HUSBAND.

Mary Ann Knox sued her husband, John Knox, for disorderly conduct. The accused was arrested and locked up for a hearing.

[Before Alderman Thomas.]

DISORDERLY CONDUCT.

Jacobina Faschem, of the Sixth ward, preferred a charge of disorderly conduct against Nicholas Goodman, alleging that the defendant, while in a state of intoxication, had called her and her husband a variety of hard names. Warrant issued.

[Before Justice Kerr.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Wm. Canan was committed to jail yesterday to answer a charge of committing an assault and battery on his wife. The defendant obtained bail about half an hour after he had been committed.

[Before Alderman McMasters.]

COMMITTED FOR A FURTHER HEARING.

Celia Burns and Charles Webster, charged with keeping a disorderly house, were committed to jail for a further hearing on Tuesday night.

NUISANCE.

Richard Crody preferred a charge of nuisance against Jacob Smith, alleging that the defendant had unloaded a cart load of dirt in front of his door. Accused was arrested.

ILLEGAL LIQUOR SELLING.

Ellen Morrison preferred a charge of illegal liquor selling against Mary Murphy. Defendant was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Jesse Rollie, charged on oath of Patrick McNamara with assault and battery.

Public Amusements.

Opera House.—There was as of course there should be last night a fashionable and appreciative audience to witness Mrs. Waller's excellent impersonation of the "Duchess of Malfi," a character which is closely identified with her name and fame. Without detracting from Mrs. Waller, whose excellent support we have already adverted to we desire to commend the performances of Miss Georgie Dickson, the soubrette, and Mr. Wood Benson, the comedian, whose performances are gems, for the reason that they are given without the modern gags and quaddities, and are amusing and entertaining for the refined mind which appreciates fun. An attractive bill is announced for this afternoon, and in the evening Mrs. Waller will appear in two of her best characters.

Pittsburgh Theater.—The inimitable English comique, James Taylor and Miss Nellie Grattan, with their remarkable performances, give one of their best performances this afternoon. In the afternoon they give a great bill of attractions, and as all know the performances in the evening are superior to those in the afternoon.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Mellon.

The case of Conrad Schussler indicted for felonious assault on Joseph Martin, reported yesterday, was resumed and occupied the attention of the court until the hour of adjournment.

Court of Common Pleas—Judge Stowe.

The case of William Lindsay vs. Thomas W. Lindsay et al, previously reported is still on trial.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Sterrett.

The Quarter Sessions list was taken up before Judge Sterrett in the District Court room.

James Smith was placed on trial for stealing two horses from James Kelley of Wilkinsburg, a few weeks ago. The jury found a verdict of guilty. The defendant made a motion for a new trial on the ground of the absence of material witnesses.

Advice to Young Men.

It was Beau Brummel who, pointing to a pyramid of cravats, said in his complacent way "It is gratifying to know that success can be achieved at the end of so many failures." The imperturbable gallant gave his undivided attention to the tie of his cravat. In his day much depended on it. Not to know and imitate the Brummel tie was to argue oneself unknown in those days, precisely as a man exposes his ignorance nowadays who does not know the location of Ramaley's hat parlor. And that reminds us how much, how very much depends upon the style of one's hat. "Give me neat shoes and a decent hat," said a knowing young man of the world, "and I'll not ask any discount of the handsomest man in the country." That chap's brain lies level. A man may spend a fortune in French leather and broadcloth, may envelope himself in fine linen and be redolent of the odor of sweets such as can only be distilled from Arabia's choicest perfumes; he may be handsome, elegant, graceful and well-bred, but unless he crowns all these with a handsome hat, he might as well try to shave himself with a clothes wringer, or comb his hair with a harrow, as to attempt to enter good society. The entrance to the society of well dressed people lies through Ramaley's Hat Parlor, No. 22 Fifth avenue.

Getting Better.—George Davis, who fell from the building in course of erection at Hazlewood, on Monday, and severely injured himself, is getting better.

Opera House Music Emporium.

We would call the attention of the musical public to the large and splendid stock of musical instruments now on exhibition at the spacious warerooms of the Messrs. Hoffman & Hale. This firm are the sole wholesale and retail agents for the celebrated Dunham & Sons' pianos. The pianos made by Dunham & Sons are not only the oldest in the country but are conceded to be the most durable as well as the most perfect now before the American people. Thousands of them can be found which have required no repairs further than tuning for a period of thirty years. Such cannot be said of any other make of pianos now made. The great combination of improvements attained in the Dunham Piano Forte, in regard to tone, touch, power, equality, durability and workmanship, has built for it a reputation which to-day stands unrivaled in every section of the country, and this great popularity has been obtained without the meretricious aid of medals or foreign decorations, the manufacturers preferring to invest their capital in the intrinsic value of their pianos rather than in gold medals and foreign gewgaws. Parties about purchasing pianos would do well to call at Hoffman & Hale's Opera House Music Store and examine the great Dunham & Sons' pianos before purchasing elsewhere.

Meets the Requirements.

There is much said concerning the merits of this and that sewing machine. To read the advertisements that appear in our daily journals, one would be led to think that either the public thought of nothing, talked of nothing, dreamed of nothing but the merits of the Top-lofty, or Layemallover machine, or those who have them to dispose of are given to the tallest kind of—fibbing. Unquestionably those conversant with sewing machines, those who use them, and whose friends use them, do discuss the respective merits of the various candidates for public favor. And there can be no doubt that every machine has its merits, and some of them their defects. But there is just as little doubt concerning one other fact, namely, that of all the machines in the market, but one "fills the bill," i. e., meets the requirements, and that is the Overseaming and Buttonhole machine. This is parexcellence the machine for everybody. It does all that is needed, and does it well—better than human hands can do it. The machine completes the work, does it neatly, swiftly, and with ease to the operator. Mr. Espy, No. 12 Fifth avenue, agent.

Ever Popular.

The one machine that retains the good opinion of those conversant with sewing machines is the Parham. Careful examination, and the fairest tests that can be applied to a machine, prove that the Parham will accomplish everything in the range of shop or domestic work with an accuracy, swiftness and ease such as no other machine can claim. This is owing to the fact that the inventor, in a life time spent in the business, perceived the wants of the public, and in getting up a new machine made it his first study to supply them. The machine is simple in construction, durable, not easily deranged, works up everything in the range of sewing swiftly and with ease, and in a word meets the requirements of the manufacturing establishment or household. The success which has attended the introduction of the Parham in this locality may be inferred from the fact that the gentlemanly agent, Mr. Millinger, No. 61 Wood street, has his time fully occupied in shipping the machines sold in his establishment.

To the Fall Trade.

Messrs. S. M Kier & Co., No. 363 Liberty street, have in store an excellent stock of queensware and bristolware of their own manufacture, which they will warrant as equal to any imported wares of the kind now in this market. Retail dealers in purchasing their stock of goods in this line for the fall trade, will find it to their interest to visit this establishment.

Good Suburban Residence.

Peremptory sale. The Orr property at Superior, between the Outer Depot and Wood's Run, will be sold without reserve on Tuesday next, at three o'clock. See advertisement on third page, by A. Leggate, auctioneer.

Carriages and Buggies and Where to Get Them.

At the carriage works of Messrs. C. West & Co., Nos. 75, 77 and 79 Liberty street, foot of Fourth avenue, one of the largest and most varied assortments of buggies and carriages ever offered to the people of Western Pennsylvania may now be seen. The firm is an old and reliable one, and possesses peculiar facilities for turning out work adapted to this section. They use the best of material in the construction of vehicles and employ the best hands. They likewise deal heavily in Eastern work, which they are enabled to dispose of at as low figures as can be found anywhere. They have also on hand a large assortment of second hand carriages of various makes. Those in need of anything in the carriage line should visit this factory and examine the stock. s

Grape Wine for Sickness.

Decidedly one of the nicest and most creditable of any advertised article we have ever seen, is the wine bearing the above name, from the vineyard of Mr. Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J. This wine is expressed from the Oporto grape, which, under the hand of Mr. Speer, has been brought to a state of great perfection. The wine possesses the very highest medicinal virtues, and certainly as an article of beverage it is not, in our judgment, to be surpassed in color, taste, or any of the qualities which constitute a pure, mild and agreeable wine.—Boston Transcript.

Keep the Body in Good Repair.

It is much easier to keep the system in good condition than to restore it to that condition when shattered by disease. The "House of Life," like other houses, should be promptly propped up and sustained whenever it shows any sign of giving way. The first symptom of physical debility should be taken as a hint that a stimulant is required. The next question is, "What shall the stimulant be?"

A wholesome vegetable tonic, the stimulating properties of which are modified by the juices and extracts of anti-febrile and laxative roots and herbs—something which will regulate, soothe and purify, as well as invigorate—is the medicine required by the debilitated. There are many preparations which are claimed to be of this description, but HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the great vegetable preventive and restorative that has won its way to the confidence of the public and the medical profession by a quarter of a century of unvarying success, stands pre-eminent among them all. To explate on its popularity would be to repeat a twice-told tale. It is only necessary to consult the records of the United States Revenue Department to learn that its consumption is greater than that of any other proprietary remedy of either native or foreign origin.

As a means of sustaining the health and strength under a fiery temperature, the BITTERS have a paramount claim to consideration. It has the effect of fortifying and bracing the nervous and muscular system against the ordinary consequences of sudden and violent changes of temperature, and is therefore peculiarly useful at this season, when hot sunshine by day, and ice-cold dews by night, alternately heat and chill the blood of those who are exposed to them.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are sold in bottles only. To avoid being deceived by counterfeiters, see that the name of the article is on the label, and embossed on the glass of the bottles, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY EVENING, September 24th, 1869.

The local money market did not appear much disturbed by the wild and disordered condition of affairs at the great financial center to-day. The fluctuations in the New York gold market are without a parallel even in the stormiest days of the rebellion. We refer to the adjoining column under "New York Finance and Trade," which will give the reader some idea of the state of affairs in Wall and Broad streets.

—Local stocks of late are in better demand, even at the handsome advance which has been established for the better class. Most of our local securities are so remunerative that big prices do not deter investors from taking them off the market.

—The changes in the prices of railway stocks to-day are not so great as was expected. Rock Island and Northwestern preferred seemed to have suffered the most. It was the excessive rates for money that broke the back of the former, and likely the disturbing cause of the decline in the general list. The market closes strong, and a much better feeling exists.

The following table, made up from dispatches received at J. W. Kennedy's Stock Rooms, Apollo Building, No. 80 Fourth avenue, shows the prices of Railway Stocks, Gold, etc., at the various sessions of the New York Boards during the day:

We annex the following quotations, which are wholesale from store, unless otherwise noted:

APPLES—Market dull at from $1 00@2 75 ℔ barrel as to quality.

BACON, LARD, ETC—Market for bacon quite active. We quote sugar cured hams 24c; plain sugar cured hams 22½c; shoulders 16c; rib sides 18½c; short rib sides 19½c, and clear 20c; dried beef 21c. Lard in tierces 20½c, and in kegs 21@21½c ℔ ℔. Mess pork $33 75@34 00 ℔ bbl.

We quote good to choice winter wheat flour at $6 75@7 25 ℔ barrel, very little selling over the latter figure. Choice to extra spring brands would bring the same price. Common and low grades are not called for and are nominal in price.

There is no symptom of speculation as yet manifest. Since our last prices are without change. Wheat is in fair receipt and buying by millers at $1 25@1 30 for winter, and $1 30@1 35 for white. Oats are scarce and demand good. We quote oats on the track at 50@52c ℔ bushel. There is a fair inquiry for Rye at $1 10@1 12 ℔ bushel on the track. Corn is quiet at $1 00 ℔ bushel on the track for prime yellow, shelled or ear. Barley ranges in price from $1 15 to $1 25 ℔ bush as to quality.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, September 25, 1869.

The iron mills of the city and vicinity having generally resumed operations and receiving a fair volume of orders for their product, imparts increased buoyancy to the trade generally.

The business of the week in raw irons aggregates a fair amount of business at steady rates.

The only change in prices worthy of note is a strengthening and in some instances an advance of fifty cents ℔ ton on medium grades of bituminous coal smelted descriptions.

Foundry irons are in light supply, scarcely equal to the demand for common to good medium grades.

Receipts of raw irons generally continue light, and the business doing is entirely legitimate, and indicates a healthy condition of the iron trade.

Bituminous Coal—Smelted from Lake Superior Ore.

The sales reported were as follows:

200 tons medium grey	$35 50—60 days
50 tons medium grey	36 00—4 mos.
100 tons neutral	37 00—6 mos.
100 tons inferior neutral	36 50—6 mos.

Gold Closed at 133.

NEW YORK, September 24—P. M.

UNPRECEDENTED EXCITEMENT AND PANIC IN THE GOLD MARKET.

The excitement growing out of the gold speculation resulted this morning in an absolute panic. At 9:15 A. M. 167½ was bid for gold, and quickly the price advanced to 153. At the opening of the gold room the price was held at 150 bid and 151 asked, and the bulls offered to make settlements with the shorts on that basis. Few, however, accepted the overture, being prevented by the hope that something might be done at Washington to relieve the market. The anxiety for news from that quarter was intense, and the hope that the Treasury might interfere was strengthened by the fact that numerous and very urgent remonstrances were made to the President and Secretary of the Treasury by parties who there was reason to expect would have influence with the Administration; but not a word came from the Government, and while the bears were waiting, the bulls were carrying up the price by rapid jumps to 162½. Near noon, the shorts surrendering all hopes, began to accept the offers of settlement, and some of the operators most heavily short compromised on the basis of 148@150. About noon an order came from the Secretary of the Treasury to sell to-morrow $4,000,000 of gold and purchase an equal amount of bonds. The order, however, did not come until the bulls had compelled a settlement at about 150, and the main operations of the bulls having been consummated, there was a sudden drop to 134 by 1:30 P. M. Contrary to expectation, the speculation culminated without any effort to compel the payment of extraordinary rates for borrowing. On the contrary, while the price was being carried up to over 160, the bulls were offering from 1-32 to 1 ℔ cent. per day for having their gold carried. According to current report, the bull clique claims to have made $11,000,000 out of their operations, and the losses on the other side must be equal. One prominent gold broker, Mr. A. G. Speyers, who was conspicuous this morning for bidding 160 for one million gold, when the price was 135, had failed to take up the gold. In defense he made a statement in the Gold Room this afternoon to the effect that the gold he bought yesterday was for Mr. W. Belden, and his bids for gold at 160 to-day were on account of James Fisk, Jr. and that his inability to deliver arose from both parties not having given him any margin. He did not, however, explain why he bid 160 when gold could have been bought at 135. Mr Speyer's conduct in other respects during the day was such as to suggest the idea that he was under some hallucination, but a prominent operator on the street that he had been placed in care of his friends does not appear to have been correct.

The enormous transactions in the Gold Room have produced a complete block in business. In the Gold Exchange bank it has been impossible to effect all the clearances within the usual hours, and the result has been that brokers have been unable to make settlements of their accounts, and several firms have been forced into temporary suspension with serious embarrassment to the whole market. Several firms are thus placed in the position of having their margins locked up in the Gold Exchange bank, and being unable to get their funds, are unable to make their account good with their bank, and therefore cannot give their checks in settlement of claims. The Commercial says, among the firms prominently effected from this cause are A. G. Speyers, Belden & Co., P. H. Williams, Jr., Golwag, Hunter & Co., Chas. McClure & Co., E. B. Waters and Wm. Heath & Co. The two latter firms assure their creditors of their entire ability to make all claims good as soon as they are enabled to possess in of their funds by the completion of the gold clearances, and there is apparently a good probability that few of the other names mentioned will prove to be permanent failures.

The Express says: The closing of the day, the most eventful one in the history of Wall street, was comparatively calm, although in all directions were gathered small crowds of brokers and speculators talking over and discussing the exciting scenes. It is stated officially that the Gold Exchange Bank will probably be able to make their settlements by five or six o'clock this evening, when leading brokers will make settlements with the street. Some, however, may not be able to straighten out their affairs before to-morrow. The many reports current on the street in regard to large failures, therefore should be received with caution, as all indications point to satisfactory settlements to-morrow. Yesterday the clearings of the Gold Exchange Bank, presenting Wednesday's business, amounted to $324,524,000, but to-day's transactions must have largely exceeded that amount. The Treasury announcement is as follows:

NEW YORK, September 24, 1869.

NOTICE.—The Government reserves the right to accept all bids made at 12 to-morrow, even in excess of four millions, for gold or bonds in its discretion.

By order of the honorable, the Secretary of the Treasury.

[Signed] DANIEL BUTTERFIELD,
Assistant Treasurer.

Gold was neglected during the afternoon, the price ranging from 133 to 135, until late in the day, when it fell to 132½, the closing price. The rumor that a foreign banking house sold five millions to-day for Government is officially contradicted. The rates paid for carrying were 1-32 to 1 ℔ cent. during the morning and at ½ cent. in the afternoon, though some loans were made flat. Since the above was written gold has advanced to 133, at which it closed.

The latest Tribune money article says: At five this afternoon the Gold Exchange Bank was able to make payments, and from appearances the houses who were unable to respond to their accounts to-day from the block in business will be in funds to meet their checks at the Clearance House to-morrow. The article says the culmination of the excitement of the Gold Room caused considerable purchases of stocks to be made on an advance, and at the close of business the market was strong and excited at an advance of 10@5 per cent. from the lowest quotations of the day. The Sub-Treasury balance is $88,873,536.

MONEY.

Failures and reports of failures have produced an unsettled feeling in the money market, and the improvement which followed the break in gold has not since been maintained. The minimum rate is 7 per cent. gold, and ¼@½ is very generally paid for carrying stocks.

STERLING

Foreign exchanges were decidedly better on the decline in gold. Prime bankers' sterling bills 107½@108, with more business.

GOVERNMENTS.

The panic in gold was attended with a decline in governments ranging from ¾ to 1¾ ℔ cent. at the second call. The Treasury order to buy four million bonds to-morrow was attended by an advance of about 1 ℔ cent. and after the close a further advance was carried 1 ℔ cent. further. The market fell off somewhat before the close, and left off dull. THE STOCK MARKET

During the morning was feverish and unsettled, and early in the day there were indications that it would again drift into a panic. The special features were New York Central, Hudson, Michigan Southern, Pittsburgh, Northwestern and Rock Island. New York Central ranged between 178 and 186½; Hudson between 165 and 168; Michigan Southern between 88 and 93¼; Pittsburgh between 131 and 105½; Rock Island between 106 and 108¼; Northwestern between 69½ and 74 and Northwestern preferred between 82 and 86. St. Paul fluctuated from 69⅛ to 71¾, and preferred between 80½ and 83½. Pacific Mail ranged between 71 and 74¾.

At the one o'clock call the market was steadier, and later became active and firm, Central selling at 185, Michigan Southern 92½, Northwestern common 72¼, do preferred 84½, Rock Island 108½, Pacific Mail 73¾. Subsequently rumors of failures caused a general and marked decline, especially in the leading speculative railway shares. Pittsburgh fell suddenly to 78, in consequence of the closing doors of Smith, Gould, Martin & Co., who were large holders of the stock, and who, however, say they have five or six millions in the Gold Exchange Bank, and will be all right in the morning. The market finally closed with a decidedly better feeling.

RIVER NEWS.

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES.

Arrived.

Elizabeth	Houghton	Port Perry.
Sallie	Calhoun	Cincinnati.
New State	Harlan	Wheeling.

Departed.

Elizabeth	Houghton	Port Perry.

TWENTY-TWO inches metal marks Wood street.

THIRTY inches in Glasshouse, Rowley's chanel.

THE marks at the foot of Wood street indicated twenty-two inches. As an evidence of their incorrectness we may state that the "Sallie," Capt. T. S. Calhoun, came up through Rowley's Channel, drawing thirty inches large. She experienced no difficulty. The "Sallie" is 185 feet long and 35 feet beam.

THE Arkansas river has risen ten feet.

THE White river is low and at a stand.

THE steamer St. Charles will be sold by auction at Cincinnati on Thursday afternoon, September 30th.

THE Mollie Ebert, Captain G. W. Ebert, left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday, with 200 tons freight. Pilots—Poe and Ebert.

THE steamer Wauanita left Cincinnati for Memphis on Wednesday, with 400 tons freight and 30 passengers.

STEWART & Co., Madison ship yard, have contracted to build a steamboat two hundred and twenty-five feet long for the Northwestern Packet Company. The work on it has been commenced.

THE fine light draught packet New State, Captain Harlin, leaves this day at noon for Wheeling and Parkersburg. Persons going that way will bear this in mind. Mr. Caldwell has charge of the office.

REMOVED.—Col. Long and Capt. N. F. Webb, in charge of the river improvement boats, have removed their vessels and headquarters of River Improvements from St. Paul to the Rapids below.

THE new and light draught packet Batesville, Captain C. W. Coles, takes her departure this day for Memphis and Upper White and Black rivers. This boat has good accommodations and is in charge of careful and attentive officers.

THE fine packet "Sallie," Capt. Calhoun, takes her departure this day for Cincinnati at 4 P. M. Passengers and shippers will bear this in mind. The boat is one of the best of her class, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Don' forget the "Sallie."

WE learn at the United States Engineer's Office, Ohio river improvement, that the statement published in yesterday's River News column, that a Mr. Morrill, Civil Engineer, was engaged by Gen. Weitzel, at Louisville, to survey the river from Louisville to Cairo is a mistake. The surveys of the Ohio, such as measuring, sounding and mapping, have been all completed by parties under W. Milnor Roberts, United States Civil Engineer. Mr. Morrill has been engaged to complete the levels over two districts of thirty miles each, over which the river was too high to obtain the local fall in the ripples at the time the regular parties were in the field.
